Valuation multiplier discussed

The application of a multiplying factor to the 1976 property assessments of Granite City Township is a "virtual certainty," the Press-Record learned from county assessing officials today.

The application of a multiplier—the size of which has not yet been determined—would increase the tax bills of all Granite City taxpayers by the amount of the multiplier. While James Barton, Madison County superintendent of assessments, said he is unable to anticipate at this time the amount of a multiplier for Granite City Township, it was learned from reliable sources that a multiplier of about 7 per cent would be necessary to bring the township's valuation ratio in compliance with a new state law requiring all property assessments be established at 33.3 per cent of fair cash value by 1978.

Barton said this morning that while an official decision to apply a multiplying factor to Granite City Township assessments has not yet been made, "it is a virtual certainty that such a factor will be necessary to bring assessments in line with this year's adjustment of assessment ratios (under the state law)."

He said that computations of property valuations in Granite City Township have not been completed and therefore he cannot say immediately how much of a multiplier may be necessary. Granite City Township assessment books prepared by the office of Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse were turned over to the assessor's office Monday.

Barton said today that multiplying factors will not be necessary in Nameski and Chouteau townships as their 1976 assessment ratios will comply with this year's requirements under the law. In Venice township, however, the assessor is now working to lower the assessments there. The new state law approved in 1975 provided that assessing officials during a three-year period should adjust all assessments to a ratio of 33.3 per cent of sales records.

During 1976, Barton's office adjusted upward a number of assessments in rural townships

Bank will seek state charter

Plans for a change from a national bank charter to a state charter were announced this week by Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman and president of the American National Bank of Granite City.

"The board of directors has initiated a movement to qualify for the establishment of a trust department, and the changing of our national into a state charter."

"Establishment of a trust department will enable us to further increase our services," Karandjeff commented.

The change to a state charter will, among other benefits, allow us to operate more profitably by reducing costs and increasing income. Following a trend which is being observed by many banks throughout the country.

A dividend of 35 cents per share has been declared, payable Jan. 3.

Nineteen seventy-six was another year of growth for the American Bank.

"Our assets have grown almost $1 million. And our capital funds, partly due to reduced operational costs and other factors, have grown over 38 per cent, exclusive of reserves," the chairman and president related.

As of Dec. 31, 1976, assets totaled $19,579,354. Capital was $200,000, surplus $800,000, undivided profits $210,910, reserves $68,797 and liabilities included $13,117,636, time deposits, $4,975,170 demand deposits and $206,839 other liabilities.

Officers besides Henry D. Karandjeff are Dave Giese vice-president and cashier; Joseph J. Baricovic vice-president, Leo Roth assistant vice-president and Helen Mangoff and Darlene Palowich assistant cashiers.

Directors are Ernest R. Bickhaus, Arthur F. Buents, Dr. Apostol D. Karandjeff, Henry D. Karandjeff, William M. Kozyak, Robert A. Maddox and Kiro Vasiloff.

Felony suspects freed quickly

Area police are citing what seems to be an increasing pattern of nearly automatic release on recognizance of persons arrested for felonies, including those accused of violent crimes.

"It is getting so anything less than murder is a recognizance—including burglary, aggravated assault and most other crimes," one officer told the Press-Record this week.

Numerous recent cases in which felony charges have been filed by the Madison County state's attorney's office have ended with the defendants on the streets, most on recognizance bonds, a check of court records has disclosed.

A man charged with shooting two adults at a children's birthday party was released on two $7,500 recognizance bonds on two counts of aggravated battery.

A young man accused of breaking into two cars and charged with two counts of burglary in an informational document was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond.

A case of a man who allegedly threatened two persons and is alleged to have fired a gun inside a service station in late December ended in the man being released on a $300 bond, despite charges of two counts of aggravated assault, two counts of unlawful use of a weapon and two counts of disorderly conduct.

The man's bond first was set by Associate Judge Philip Farick at a total of $10,000 and the other $25,000 of the bond was made into a recognizance bond. There, Circuit Judge William Beatty reduced the bond to a total of $3,000 and the man was released after posting 10 per cent of the $3,000.

Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott has been conducting hearings in Granite City for several months. He declined yesterday to comment on the degree to which non-money bonds should be utilized. Basic purpose of the bonding process is to assure attendance at hearings and trials. Among the cases being cited is one this week in which a police lieutenant had a finger bitten seriously enough to require hospitalization and surgery. The suspect was released on recognizance by Judge Hiscott.

A young man who allegedly shot another young man in a doorway when refused entrance to a home also was released on bonds should be utilized. Basic

'Cloak and dagger' issue in union election

The intense campaign for the United Steelworkers' presidential election Feb. 8 continues to develop unusual aspects.

The nation's spy agency "got into the act" this week. Top AFL-CIO national officers say they unsuccessfully tried to persuade President-elect Jimmy Carter not to appoint Theodore C. Sorensen as director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Formerly special advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy, Sorensen was chosen to head the CIA because he was "the first to raise money for me in New York and the first to come out for me," Mr. Carter is said to have explained. "It is in a bind. I had no options."

"We weren't happy about it," Lane Kirkland, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, said Tuesday.

Kirkland and others feel Sorensen has been identified with the campaign of Edward Sadlowksi against Lloyd McBride of this district for the Steelworkers' presidency. Sorensen denied Wednesday that he has any tie with Sadlowksi.

Sadlowski coming here

Ed Sadlowski, Chicago, a candidate for international president of the United Steelworkers of America will be at what is billed as an "old time union rally" in Madison.

The rally is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 13, at Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

Sadlowski is running against Lloyd McBride in a nationwide union election on Feb. 8.

Police want pay for roll calls, briefings

The Granite City Council voted Tuesday night to "place on file" a request by the union representing the city police that patrol officers be compensated, at overtime rates, for attending "roll call" sessions of 15 minutes each prior to beginning each duty shift since April 1974.

The letter from the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local 1247, informed the council that the majority of the union members present voted to have the issue brought to the council's attention.

"Since April, 1974, the officers in the patrol division have been required to report for duty 15 minutes prior to their regular eight-hour shift for roll call. This time amounts to one hour and 15 minutes a week which is a violation of our union agreement with the city."

"Our agreement with the city states that members of the police department will be paid at the rate of time and one-half for over 40 hours work in one week. Therefore, we respectfully request that you give serious consideration in an effort to resolve this problem for the past and present," the letter from William D. Harris, secretary of the local, said.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said he figured roughly that each policeman in the patrol division since April 1974 would be entitled to receive about $2,000 in back pay, if the council voted to give the officers overtime pay for the roll call sessions.

He said such a move could cost the city $85,000 to $100,000 in back pay.

Veizer said he did not feel the police should be paid for the 15 minutes prior to their regular shift to inform them what has transpired during the previous 24 hours. I know of no police department where the officers are being paid for roll-call time," Veizer added.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward noted that most police are transported from outside of town to work and back in police cars. "We already are giving them free taxi service," Poulos said of the police car pickups.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said if officers were going to be that careful of what time they report for work, "It is time we get a time clock."

Mayor Paul Schuler said, "We do not have $20,000 to $100,000 in the city coffers."

SNOWBOUND MAILBOX stands in front of the Granite City post office, 2350 Madison Ave., where it was built of snow and ice by ambitious neighborhood youngsters after three inches of snow fell Tuesday. With temperatures near the freezing point during much of the snowfall, the snow was formed easily into snowmen and other snow sculpture throughout the area. The "mailbox" even has a carved door with handle. Two conventional mailboxes are seen at the right.

Organ Society will expand its membership

The January meeting of the Metro-East Organ Society was hosted Monday evening by Jack Johnson at Johnson's Music Store on Nameoki Road. Fred Johnson, newly-elected president, commended the 1976 officers for having done a good job.

The new officers took office at the meeting. They are Fred Johnson, president; Elizabeth Navacich, vice-president; Shirley Schwendemann, secretary; Frances David, treasurer. It was announced that David will be the new treasurer for 1977 instead of Zawandafaye Smolich as previously reported.

Cash and records were given to David by Mrs. Smolich and the treasurer's report was read and approved. A bill was presented for the printing of the new year books. It was announced that the scrapbook being maintained on a current basis and will be available for viewing at the next meeting.

The society's constitution was reviewed. Johnson announced that all future meetings will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. due to the length of time involved with the technical questions and programs to be conducted. David said he will be available for anyone wishing to contact him in the Collinsville area at 344-4944 for questions concerning the society or membership.

Plans were announced by the president and discussed by the members to increase the number of members. The consensus was to permit five new members to join. After adjournment of the business meeting, a session was enjoyed by the members during which Jack Johnson discussed Ninth chords, tonic-sub-tonic-mediant-sub-dominant-sub-medium, and leading tones, couplet melodies with left hand, rules in writing or arranging music, passive and active chords.

He also presented a circle of chords for memorizing which would give the user a quick reference for chording on the organ. Fred Johnson contributed information about fifth chords, and rewriting certain measures of music.

Various selections on the organ were played by Jack Johnson and members were shown the different combinations available for various types of playing.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Halyama, 1919 Cleveland Ave. Refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting.

More ambulance service needed, city is told

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Talks between Granite City officials and Bob Thomas of Thomas Ambulance are underway to seek a means for providing more emergency ambulance personnel here.

"We are talking about the city possibly taking over the emergency ambulance function, but I am not giving the city any deadline, and I intend to see to it that the city is never without ambulance service," Thomas told the Press-Record after meeting with members of the city's traffic committee yesterday.

"None of the other funeral homes are willing to offer emergency ambulance service and since EMT Ambulance went out of business, I am operating the only ambulance service in Granite City.

"I feel the area we serve needs two emergency crews on duty at all times, 24 hours per day, and I am only able to handle one. I can not afford to hire more people and we are experiencing a problem in serving our area with our limited number of people.

"We do not like delays in emergency service, but we have reached a point where we are having to call off-duty people in to man an emergency ambulance when the on-duty people are on a trip and another call is received. That has caused a few delays in the past and that is what we are trying to avoid," Thomas said.

He noted the ambulance service is handling 4,000 ambulance trips per year, both emergency and convalescent, which averages about 10 to 15 ambulance requests on an average day. "That is just too much for one ambulance crew to handle in three shifts," he explained.

Thomas emphasized he is not giving the city any specific proposal or telling officials the city will have to take over emergency ambulance service, but is meeting with the city officials "to discuss various proposals."

He said he is open to suggestions on how the emergency service can be improved, but said the only answer seems to be more people.

"We use only trained emergency medical technicians as a matter of policy and want to continue that to provide the best possible emergency service to the people. Using EMT trained personnel, it is impractical, financially, at this time to hire enough people to provide two crews 24 hours per day without assistance from the service," Thomas concluded.

Seminars next week

Residential location and demand for local public goods will be discussed at a seminar sponsored by the SIUE School of Business, Monday, Jan. 10, at 3 p.m. Michael Lee of the University of North Carolina will talk on the subject in the School of Business Conference room (Room 3307) in Building II on the local campus.

Another seminar, the fourth in a series presented by the SIUE School of Business, will feature a presentation by John Flinders of Stanford University. His topic will be "Profitability of National Bank Notes Issued, 1875 to 1935" at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, in the School of Business Conference room.

Both seminars are sponsored by the Department of Economics and the Research and Project Committee of the School of Business. They are free and open to the public.

Lindberg top aide to Scott

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott yesterday announced the appointment of George W. Lindberg, 44, as first assistant attorney general.

Lindberg served as Illinois' first comptroller from 1973 to 1977, "gaining statewide respect for his administrative abilities and effectiveness in creating a highly-regarded professional office responsible for overseeing complicated fiscal matters for all of state government," Scott said.

Lindberg served as a state representative in the Illinois General Assembly from 1967 to 1973. He practiced law from 1968 to 1973, after 13 years as vice-president and legal counsel for John E. Reid and Associates, of Chicago. Lindberg graduated from the Northwestern University School of Law in 1967 and was admitted to the practice of law in Illinois and the federal court.

Lindberg resides in his native town of Crystal Lake with his wife, Linda, and daughters Karen, 11, and Kirsten, age 9. He succeeds the late Robert J. O'Rourke as Scott's top aide.

Scott also announced the appointment of two certified public accountants to oversee the financial affairs of his office.

Ronald M. Hamelberg, 40, Barrington, will serve as internal auditor.

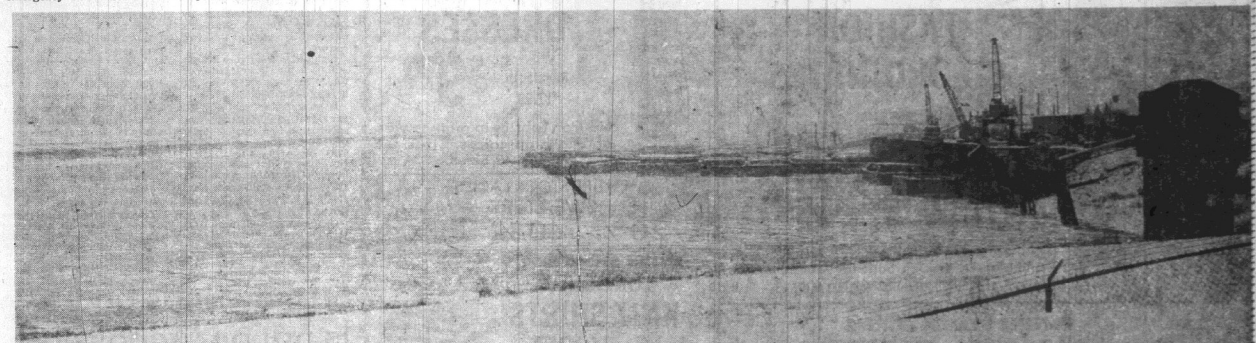

Thomas A. Pigati, 29, Springfield, will be chief fiscal officer.

Two injured

Two women were injured when their auto and the car of Benita Pickler, 2140 Orville Ave., collided on icy pavement at Nameoki Road and Victory Drive at 1:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Miss Irma Bauer, 65, of 2710A Washington Ave., a driver, suffered a broken vertebrae in her neck and was transferred to Pirmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, after treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Louise Mitchell, a passenger in Miss Bauer's auto, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for back pain. X-rays were taken and she was released.

ICY CONGESTION. Navigation through the Chain of Rocks Canal has become almost impossible as ice continues to build up. This view is looking northward from the north end of Granite City Locks No. 27. The barges have been docked at the Tri-City Port to be loaded or unloaded then to be moved to their destinations. Four large tows have been put into operation breaking up the ice to keep the canal open at times.

State government has dark clouds on financial horizon

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Action at the veto session of the Illinois General Assembly resulted in $69.9 million—out from current spending by Governor Daniel Walker's previous vetoes—being restored.

Included in this figure is $29.1 million in the General Revenue Fund, the fund that may be hurting before July 1, 1977.

Even with the fiscal 1977 tax acceleration package—the speedup in remission of sales tax collected by large retailers that became effective in November—sales tax receipts through November were only $50 million (eight per cent) ahead of last year for the same period.

On the other hand, income tax receipts were ahead by $104 million (18 per cent) for the same comparable period.

The main reason why sales tax receipts don't show as great an increase for this fiscal year is that sales tax receipts were also accelerated during October 1976, when a speedup of sales tax receipts out of the clearing account was accomplished.

It is a bit alarming to note that—apart from the sales and income taxes—receipts into the General Revenue Fund from the other state taxes have grown but slightly, only $7 million (two per cent).

These taxes include public utility taxes, cigarette taxes, inheritance tax, liquor, gasoline taxes, insurance taxes and fees, corporation franchise tax and fees, investment income, and miscellaneous taxes.

Transfers into the General Revenue Fund have decreased by $22 million compared to the same five-month period a year ago.

The lottery fund, which produced $28 million for this period a year ago, produced $17 million for the same five months this fiscal year, down $11 million.

However, receipts from federal sources are up by $46 million.

At this time, three factors should be kept in mind:

(1) The year-end estimate of having $100 million in the General Revenue Fund must be revised downward to reflect the General Assembly's action in restoring $39.1 million of vetoed appropriations.

(2) There will probably be a deficiency for public aid, and this was not taken into account when the July 1, 1977, estimated $100 million surplus was projected for the General Revenue Fund; and (3) economic growth for this fiscal year has diminished somewhat since September when the $100 million surplus was estimated.

Survey finds home ownership is not an 'impossible dream'

Is home ownership an impossible dream for young people?

Can only high-income families afford today's homes? "These and other current housing myths" are refuted by a study conducted by the Family Housing Bureau.

It cited the following "myths" and "facts":

1. First-time home buyers—virtually driven out of the market by escalating housing costs?

The Family Housing Bureau survey shows that 44 per cent of today's home buyers are first-time buyers.

2. Young people cannot afford homes anymore?

The survey says that 87 per cent of first-time buyers are younger than 35, with the average age being 28. The average age for first-time buyers of homes costing over $50,000 was 31.

3. The few first-time buyers who can afford homes are around the classical "rule of thumb" that mortgage payments should be a fourth of total income. Another 52 per cent of the buyers are even more conservative, spending 20 per cent or less of their total income on shelter payments.

6. Due to economic conditions and lender requirements, have down payment percentages shot beyond the standard 20 per cent of purchase price?

On the average, according to the Family Housing Bureau survey, the traditional 20 per cent down payment is still prevalent as the norm, with over 30 per cent of buyers putting exactly that amount down.

Another one-third of the buyers put down 10 per cent or less.

7. Lower-middle income families might as well forget the idea of home ownership altogether.

Almost four out of 10 first-time buyers have family incomes under $15,000. In fact, 7 per cent of them have incomes under $10,000.

White most buyers with incomes under $15,000 are buying homes costing less than $30,000, a third of them buys in the over $30,000 category.

8. Because of high interest rates and exorbitant costs, mortgage payments are staggering. True?

For almost three-fourths of the first-time buyers, monthly mortgage payments amount to under $300, with the average for all first-time buyers being $278.

These payments are for single-family dwellings for 87 per cent of the buyers, and more than half of the payments are for homes costing over $30,000.

9. To keep mortgage payments feasible, first-time home buyers must resort to very long-term mortgages.

Surprisingly, it is the previous home owners who chalk up the bulk of longer-term mortgages: 63 per cent of them select 29 and 30-year mortgages, as compared to 57 per cent of first-time buyers; 48 per cent of first-timers are more frequently for either a 20-year term or the standard 25-year mortgage term.

Other assumptions about the market and the buyers were also overturned by the survey findings.

For example, in the current economy, one might be tempted to conclude that first-time buyers must get much of their cash down payments by borrowing from relatives or lending institutions. But 71 per cent are doing the entire down payment on their own saved money and investments, with no assistance.

As an overall average, down payments consist of 80 per cent saved funds, with the remaining 20 per cent contributed by supplementary sources such as relatives and lending institutions.

Another prevailing assumption is that it is almost impossible to save enough money for the down payment. It took most of the surveyed buyers (58 per cent) two years or less to save the down payment.

The average period of time required for accumulating savings for the down payment was 2.4 years. For homes under $30,000, the down payment was saved by 46 per cent of buyers in less than a year.

ALICE PAUL WEEK, starting Tuesday, Jan. 11, will commemorate the 92nd birthday of Alice Paul of Ridgefield, Conn., an advocate of women's rights for 76 years and author of the equality of sex amendment introduced in 1923 in the U.S. Congress and re-introduced each year thereafter until passed in March 1972. Signing the proclamation are Mayor Paul Scher of Granite City, seated, Mayor Floyd D. Moss of Pontoon Beach, left, and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk. Observers are Norma Mendoza, left, president of Metro-East National Organization of Women (NOW), and Liz Neeley, NOW vice president. Venice Mayor William Ebersoldt also signed the document.

Women's events highlight 'Alice Paul' celebration

A Bicentennial photographic exhibit, concerning the history of women in Illinois, and a reception honoring Alice Paul, author of the Equal Rights Amendment in 1923 and other women of note from Madison County, are among the events taking place in the next two weeks, arranged by the Metro-East Chapter of the National Organization of Women (NOW).

The Alice Paul Week celebration also will feature a feminist concert by Kristin Lema, a talented singer and composer, and a dramatic interpretation of the playlet, "200 Years," by the East Bank Players of Granite City.

The mayors of the Quad-Cities have proclaimed the week of Jan. 11 through Jan. 18 as "Alice Paul Week" in the communities of Venice, Madison, Pontoon Beach and Granite City.

The Illinois Bicentennial Commission, the Institute on Pluralism and Group Identity and the Illinois State Fair are co-sponsoring the touring photographic exhibition, which will be displayed on the second floor of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, starting Monday and continuing through Feb. 4.

Miss Mindy McNichols, program advisor to the University Center Board, said the exhibit's purpose is to highlight and celebrate the important history of women in Illinois, and to give the state's citizens an opportunity to learn about that history.

The photographs will feature pioneer women on Illinois farms, working women in factories and mines, women artists and women who were active in various civic and social service agencies.

Women's organizations in Madison County are being asked to choose a woman, either a member of their own group or not, who has contributed to the women's movement, to be recognized at a reception from 2:30 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 18, in the Centennial Room of SIUE University Center.

"We feel that it is important to recognize women who have given a great deal of effort to this cause and may never otherwise be recognized," Miss McNichols said.

Groups wishing to nominate a woman to be honored are asked to contact the program advisor at 1-902-2017.

Mrs. Norma Mendoza of Metro-East NOW chapter, said Miss Kristin Lema of Champaign-Urbana, a widely-known folk singer and feminist, will headline the feminist concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Tickets for the concert cost $3 and may be obtained after Monday at the University Building ticket office.

"Kristin received several standing ovations when she appeared in November at NOW's Illinois state convention and responded by singing encore after encore," Mrs. Mendoza said.

"Anyone not understanding the designation 'feminist' will get a very clear picture of exactly its meaning after hearing Kristin Lema in concert," the chapter president added.

Immediately preceding the concert, the East Bank Players will perform the playlet, "200 Years," written by Shirley Long with the assistance of Jeanne Keefe, Sue Zerjal and Betty Maloney of the Edwardsville Area League of Women Voters.

The group initially presented the dramatic reading at the Edwardsville Bicentennial picnic on July 3.

Mrs. Mendoza said the Quad-City mayors declared Jan. 11 to Jan. 18 as "Alice Paul Week" in a proclamation reading in part:

"Whereas Jan. 11, 1977, is the 92nd birthday of Alice Paul, long time advocate of women's rights and author of the following amendment to the U.S. Constitution—

"Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of Sex," which was first introduced in the passage in March 1972 and

"Whereas 34 states having now ratified this Equal Rights Amendment with Illinois being one of the four more states needed to make this the 27th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution;

"We, the undersigned mayors of the respective communities do hereby decree the week of Jan. 11 to 18, 1977, be declared 'Alice Paul Week' in conjunction with the 'Women's Photographic History Exhibit at SIUE."

Retired Persons 1340 to install

Installation of new officers will be among the activities at the Wednesday, Jan. 12 meeting of the Madison County Association of Retired Persons, Inc. (AARP).

The general membership session will take place at 7 p.m. at Coolidge Junior High School cafeteria. Mrs. W. M. Walcott, AARP assistant state director for Southern Illinois, will conduct the ceremony.

Plans for the event were reviewed this week at a joint meeting of the chapter's 1976 and 1977 executive boards at the Senior Citizens' Center.

Mrs. Vina Law presided and reports were given by Charles Kelly, Grace Range and Clara Schilling.

Progress of the chapter and election held during the past 12 months were discussed. Chairmen were asked to submit brief reports concerning these activities at next Wednesday's meeting.

It was announced an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) instructor will meet with Tax Aide volunteers Thursday, Jan. 13, in preparation for the start of the Tax Aide for Seniors program, scheduled to be offered in late January.

Mrs. Elma Hoover reported reservations are confirmed with Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for a spring outing at the Touch of Nature Camp at Little Grassy Lake for May 23 to May 25.

Highlights of the AARP Rhythm Band's itinerary in December were presented, including a performance at the community-wide senior citizens' party at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

The band has been invited to appear at an area nursing home this month, Mrs. Law said.

A trip to view the Way of Lights at Our Lady of Snows Shrine, Belleville, was set for the past Monday, and other routine business was acted upon before adjourning.

Prayer and pledge to the flag also were part of the board meeting.

Trio Homemakers topic—heart disease

A dessert luncheon preceded the January meeting of Trio Unit of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association held Tuesday noon at Hope Lutheran Church in Hope.

The hostesses were Vera Carey, Rosamund Johnson and Ruth Brave.

Games were directed by Mary Ellen Lewis during the social hour, and prizes were awarded to Ada Matras, Louise Anderson and Marie Durbin.

Mrs. Louise Smith, unit chairman, opened the business session with the pledge of allegiance. Nineteen members responded to roll call.

Mrs. Frankie Hickey was enrolled as a new member. Also welcomed were three guests, Rosalie Johannmeier, Jo Hawes and Jerry Short.

"Cardiovascular Diseases" was the subject of the major lesson presented by Genevieve Hill and Glenagean Olson.

The speakers were assisted by Mike Hickey, an instructor of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) with a county hospital's Emergency Medical Technicians' team.

Unit members agreed to take part in a CPR class taught by Hickey and scheduled the event for 9 a.m. Feb. 8, at Hope Lutheran Church.

The instruction will be open to the public and interested persons are being asked to call 931-2809, or contact any unit member to register advance.

No charge will be made for the class.

Mrs. Lucille Sackett reported plans to attend a workshop in upholstery techniques in Highland, March 2 and March 3, and agreed to acquaint unit members with the details at a meeting later in the spring.

Electrical Safety

Precautions," specifically in the area of inadequate wiring was the topic of a presentation by Helen Roessner, Health and Safety chairman.

Trio Unit, one of the county's "oldest" homemakers' chapter, will observe its 40th anniversary at a salad luncheon at noon, Tuesday, Feb. 1, at Hope Lutheran Church, Mrs. Smith announced.

Mrs. Sarah Schroeder dies

Graveside services will be held in Oak Grove Cemetery, Jerseyville, at 2 p.m. Friday for Mrs. Sarah Schroeder, 90, of 1927 Edison Ave., who died at 8:15 a.m. Jan. 1 at the home of a nephew in Richmond, Tex., near Dallas.

Mrs. Schroeder had been in poor health since June 17 when she was struck by a pickup truck while walking across the street at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street. She suffered several injuries and spent some time in hospital here.

Since the accident, Mrs. Schroeder had resided with a nephew and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. David (Harriet) Daly of Richmond, Tex. Despite her age, Mrs. Schroeder had continued to be an active person. At one time she was employed for many years at the Granite City Public Library.

She was born in Jerseyville, but had lived in Granite City nearly 75 years.

Her husband, Dr. Hugo Schroeder, died many years ago.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Della Daly of Jerseyville; and several nieces and nephews, including Dr. Daly.

Arrangements are being made by a Jerseyville funeral home.

Car hits pole

Hector Martinez, 44, of 1717 Spruce St., was injured when his westbound auto skidded on snow on State Aid Route 35, three miles west of Route 157, and struck a utility pole at 12:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Martinez said another auto was stopping in front of his car and when Martinez applied the brakes, his car went out of control on the icy roadway.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a bump to his head and a bruise to his left knee. X-rays were taken and he was released.

SALVATION ARMY MEMBERS George Groves (left) and Capt. Michael Tompkins load over 30 boxes filled with food, clothing and toys collected by associates at St. Elizabeth Hospital who participated in the Salvation Army holiday drive. "It was tremendous; I never imagined that much. I think it was a good gesture on the part of the hospital and I'd call it a job well done," Capt. Tompkins said in reaction. In total, Tompkins reported, the SA 1976 drive aided over 3,200 persons. Approximately 865 families were fed, and clothing was supplied to more than 20 families, he said. An estimated 3,400 toys were collected and 165 children and 130 senior citizens were provided for at separate Christmas parties. The Army visited 1,090 persons in nursing homes at Christmastime, he added. "The thing to realize most of all," Capt. Tompkins commented, "is that this is not a one-time action. We're (the Salvation Army) here all the time."

Felony

his recognition by Hiscott.

Two young men - accused of theft of camera equipment - valued at more than $4,000 from a Granite City photo studio and later arrested after a lengthy police investigation - also were released on recognition bonds by Judge Hiscott.

At one time, formal posting of property bonds was the norm and big-volume bail bond companies were active at jails and courthouses throughout the nation.

The trend in more recent years has been to permit most prisoners to go free unless there is substantial belief that they will flee, or valid concern that new acts of violence might occur.

Some communities in the U.S. now complain about "revolving door" justice, with criminals "on the streets before the arresting officers have barely finished their testimony."

While Madison County is not considered to have reached this type of situation, there have been increasingly heated comments of disapproval about newly apprehended suspects gaining quick release on their own recognition without having to contend with the inconvenience of posting cash bail.

The Press-Record recently carried an appeal by Chief Circuit Judge Harold Clark for public support to provide additional jail and prison facilities.

Judge Beatty speculated that this county will be seeing sterner treatment of criminals and suspects, with tougher sentences and less frequent resort to probation for those convicted of felonies.

No specific policies have been announced for the handling of those awaiting off-delayed trials.

A Madison County grand jury this fall blamed an increase in crime partly on repeat offenses by those not incarcerated for previous cases.

The grand jury also contended there is an inappropriately extreme degree of leniency for wrongdoers who happen to be young.

Growing bus system usage

By ROBERT J. BAER
Executive Director
Bi-State Development Agency

In a real sense, the concept of an interstate compact agency with the authority to plan and operate public works and transportation programs in Illinois and Missouri was an idea ahead of its time.

For too many years, Bi-State was little more than a concept, a legislative marvel, impressive on paper but interested in the purpose for which it was created—solving regional problems.

Therefore, it is important to understand the sharp contrast between Bi-State today and the Bi-State which was virtually dormant until the early 1970s. The people instrumental in Bi-State's gradual but steady progress are too numerous to list in this report.

It is fair to say, however, that Bi-State is healthy today because of community consensus. This was graphically demonstrated in the provision of local and state financial assistance which rescued the Agency's transit system from the edge of bankruptcy, and we gratefully acknowledge our supporters in this effort.

While we are encouraged by recent events, our purpose is not to dwell upon the past, but rather to delineate what can be expected from Bi-State in 1977 and beyond—and, more important, to emphasize the need for recognition and use of Bi-State's unique compact flexibility.

Public transportation, presently our principal activity, will present new challenges in the coming years, and our most pressing priority is to assist local and state officials in their efforts to assure continued transit financing.

In Bi-State's delivery of transit services, the key words are improvement and innovation.

We plan to continue the improvement of the transit system by providing greater dependability and more accessible service while maintaining an economical fare structure responsive to the diverse needs of the people of this region.

Rider surveys have shown that increased frequency of service on our 141 lines is a major passenger priority, with the expansion of service into developing residential and commercial areas also a continuing goal.

Our efforts have been well received by the public, as evidenced by an eight per cent ridership increase since 1975 and a 30 per cent passenger increase during the past three years.

Innovation is exemplified by the introduction of neighborhood circulators, minibuses serving less densely populated suburban areas.

We are improving our ability to serve wheelchair-confined persons via a door-to-door demand-response system and by the purchase of regular-size buses with wheelchair lifts for use in selected fixed-route service.

We plan to streamline our present zone and transfer fare structure as a result of an extensive study now in progress.

Bi-State's multi-year, $131 million capital improvement program is ahead of schedule, due primarily to the availability of local funds from the Missouri transportation sales tax and Illinois capital assistance grants which make Bi-State eligible for $4 in federal funds for each dollar available locally.

Bi-State has thus attracted $44 million in federal capital funds over the past 18 months. Capital improvements will again affect our 806-bus fleet. By the end of 1977, there will be 621 new buses on the streets, and 200 other late-model buses will be completely refurbished.

These grant funds will mean that, by the end of this period, the Bi-State fleet will be one of the newest in the country rather than one of the oldest.

And the transformation will ensure our passengers of safe, modern and convenient transit vehicles.

One hundred new passenger shelters were erected in 1976; 39 existing structures are being enclosed, and another 545 shelters will be added in 1977-78.

System operations and maintenance will be enhanced by a $55 million garage modernization and construction program which calls for renovation or replacement of our six existing garages, and the addition of two facilities in St. Louis County and another in Illinois.

Customer information services will be vastly improved by a graphics program providing 16,000 new bus-stop signs, attractive and easy-to-read system maps and bus timetables, and service centers with direct bus information.

Steady progress is also being made in Bi-State's other activities.

At Bi-State Parks Airport, a $2.4 million grant application was submitted under the Airport Development Aid Program (ADAP) and a $1.7 million application to the Economic Development Administration (EDA).

These can permit construction of a new terminal building, access roads, support facilities, and additional T-hangers.

We plan to accelerate our land acquisition and facility development programs in view of the airport's growing importance to general aviation in the metropolitan area.

Bi-State's designation as this region's port coordinating agency provides an example of the potential for cooperation between the public and private sectors. An extensive study of the port will be completed by the end of 1976, an immediate action will be taken on the resulting recommendations.

A commitment by Bi-State, the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, water-related interests, the financial community, the Corps of Engineers, the Coast Guard, and the Missouri and Illinois port authorities and districts will be essential for future development of the port of metropolitan St. Louis.

The local economy urgently needs a stable, progressive approach to the waterway's regional management in order to ensure retention of more than 47,000 jobs now associated with the river-borne commerce and area industry, as well as creation of new employment opportunities.

Bi-State's role in development of the Gateway Arch, an integral part of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, exemplifies cooperation between the local and federal governments for community betterment.

One of the top five tourist attractions in the nation, the Arch Transportation System, which is operated by Bi-State, carried more than 892,000 passengers in 1976, an all-time high.

Future improvements, supported in part by Bi-State Arch revenues, may include additional parking which could also benefit the adjacent Lucille's Landing Development area.

The new passenger reservation system which was successfully tested in 1976 will become a year-round feature.

Given community support and resources, Bi-State can play an even broader role in community development and revitalization in the future. For example:

Bi-State, as regional port coordinator, will shift emphasis from planning to implementation in 1977 and spearhead development activities in the two-state area.

Bi-State should become more involved in airport activities in order to enhance this region's aviation capabilities.

Its proven success as manager of Bi-State Parks Airport makes it a logical participant in the administration of other aviation facilities throughout the region.

Bi-State may be the only organization that can serve as coordinator in the crucial task of assisting local municipalities to assure continued operation and proper maintenance of four vehicular bridges in the downtown St. Louis area.

Bi-State could serve as a natural liaison in planning and development of a companion riverfront park in Illinois opposite the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial.

Bi-State could play a role in the reorganization of area railroad operations, where inaction and confusion continue, to retard growth in Illinois and Missouri.

Bi-State is presently the only agency with authority to plan and implement programs in both Missouri and Illinois, a requisite to any solution of the often-discussed problem of solid waste disposal.

Bi-State looks forward to applying the latest transit technology to this area, possibly through operation of an automated Downtown People Mover, a prototype fixed-rail experting being considered by the federal government for St. Louis, or implementation of a transit plan resulting from the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's planning efforts.

Since 1949, Bi-State has possessed the authority to accomplish a wide variety of public works projects. But many opportunities to utilize its two-state compact powers during this period were regrettably overlooked. Bi-State today is much more than just a name or a philosophical concept.

It is a mature agency familiar with the region and its problems.

Bi-State should be regarded as both a provider of services and a problem solver. Our continued involvement, however, will be based on fulfillment of two requirements. First, financial support from

Chouteau officials seek re-election as 'Progressive Party'

Most of the incumbent Chouteau Township officials filed petitions of candidacy Tuesday with Town Clerk Patricia Polley under the name of the Chouteau Township Progressive Party.

Heading the ticket are the incumbent supervisor, Walter "Dick" Sparks, and the incumbent town clerk, Mrs. Polley, both seeking re-election to the same offices.

Charles E. Lexow, the current tax collector, has filed as a candidate for tax assessor, a post which is being vacated by the retirement of Otis R. Reeves.

Cletus L. Bedwood, a current trustee, has filed for the tax collector's position, and Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt, also currently a trustee, has filed as a candidate for highway commissioner.

The only trustee seeking reelection to the same office on the Progressive Party ticket is Marion Sparks.

New trustee candidates on the ticket are Steve Novosel, Rural Route Two, Box 1183; Thomas Johnson, 1209 Main St., South Kansas, and Dudley T. Liebert, 111 W. Fourth St., Hartford.

Neither the current highway commissioner, James Estes, nor Trustee James Greer have yet filed for re-election.

UNDERCOATING—RALPH'S TEXACO 22ND & MADISON AVE.

Championship past recalled as Red Devils slump to 2-6

What a difference two years can make.

In early 1975, Coach Richard Essington's Venice High School Red Devil basketball team won the last of the state after capturing the Class A (750 enrollment or less) state basketball championship.

By this week, the 1976-77 season hope of another 20-plus victory campaign has turned to ashes, and Essington has become so upset that he has begun to regularly hang up the telephone on those inquiring about the team.

The Red Devils have defeated Assumption 75-53 and Columbia 50-51 but have lost to St. Paul of Highland 90-69, St. Louis Summer 75-73, Madison 73-49, Flora 64-56, New Athens 70-59 and Steelville 75-46.

Essington is unhappy over players' reaction to his disciplinary policies. He shrugs off complaints about his attitude by saying, "Show me a happy loser and I'll show you a loser."

Wins outnumbered losses about 10-to-one under his leadership prior to this fall.

Venice perennially has won the Columbia-Freeburg holiday tournament, but not this holiday season. While many fans do not expect a championship every year, the coach still feels intense inward pressure.

"It's going to be tough to support us this year, but if the players work hard next summer we could have a fine team next year," he predicts.

"I kicked one player off the team and four others didn't show up for practice over the holidays. I've had problems with the biggest part of the kids all fall."

"They just don't want to take coaching, or do the things it takes to be a winner. I thought we had some harmony when they came back earlier, but we just couldn't work things out."

"When you discipline one, they act like you are intentionally hurting them. If you set a kid down on the bench, he takes it personally."

"Kids yesterday would fight back and work that much harder and want to get back on the basketball floor. Today they just want to walk away from it."

Auto agency burglarized

About 15 automotive batteries worth $50 to $70 each, some air filters, spark plugs, alternators and starters are known missing after a burglary at Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, between 6 p.m., Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Entry was gained by breaking a two-foot square window in the side of the garage and then covering the broken window with the tailgate from a pickup truck to keep anyone from looking inside during the burglary.

Items in the parts department were scattered on the floor and several cartons of parts were searched. Two or more sets of footprints were found in the snow and there were signs in the snow of one or more heavy boxes being dragged to a vehicle in the rear parking lot.

Joseph Podnar, 78, dies

Joseph W. Podnar, 78, of 1330 Fourth St., Madison, a native of Czechoslovakia, died at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He had resided in Madison for 75 years. Mr. Podnar had been ill two years and was hospitalized one month.

Mr. Podnar retired in 1908 as a carpenter after 20 years service at the Aeronautical Craft Plant, St. Louis.

Road deaths down slightly

The Maryville Illinois State Police zone, District Eleven, has shown a decline in traffic fatalities.

Capt. Albert J. Bertagnoli, district commander, said Tuesday that Illinois had 1,139 rural traffic fatalities in 1975 compared to 1,229 in 1976, an increase of 90.

In District 11, which covers a nine-county area, there were 159 rural traffic fatalities in 1975 and 158 in 1976, a decrease of one.

Illinois had a total of 186 traffic fatalities for the month of December 1976, he added.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Bernice Crimmins of Madison had as holiday guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crimmins of Tooele, Utah, St. Lorraine Crimmins of Creve Coeur, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. David Scheckler and daughter, Valerie. A family reunion was later held at St. Francis Center with St. Maureen Crimmins, a sister and aunt of the above.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Both GCHS North and GCHS South.

South's Warriors are the defending team champion of the meet.

Wrestling tournament at Prather Jr. High

Rise in use of electricity

Illinois Power Company yesterday reported that 1976 kilowatt hour electric energy use in its system was up 7.57 per cent over 1975.

The increase is higher than the national increase of about 6.3 per cent over the same period. Final national figures will not be available until Jan. 31.

William C. Gerstner, executive vice-president, said that Illinois Power's kilowatt hour load for 1976 was 13,032,838,638, compared to the 1975 figure of 12,165,986,120.

The company serves an area of 15,000 square miles in Illinois.

Driver escapes as train hits Jeep

Nicholas Runtz, 22, Alton, escaped serious injury when his jeep was struck by a fast-moving freight train on the West Pontoon Road crossing just west of Nameoki Road at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Witnesses alleged Runtz' westbound car went around the railroad gates and started across the tracks when struck on the eastern set of tracks by the southbound Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train.

It was believed Runtz saw a slower southbound freight train on the second set of tracks and attempted to beat it across the tracks, but failed to notice the faster train on the nearer set of tracks.

There was extensive damage to the jeep. Runtz got out of the vehicle and sat down near the tracks until police and an ambulance arrived.

He was charged with disobeying railroad crossing signals and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a bruise and contusion to his left shoulder and pain to his upper back. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Can Illini catch up with the Big Two?

By LARRY HARNLY
CHAMPAIGN — The Gary Moeller football era at the University of Illinois is moving along. If Moeller likes a challenge (and what young head coach doesn't?), he came to the right place. Since the Illini won their last Big Ten Conference championship in 1963, they have had only three winning records. And only one came in the past 11 seasons while Pete Elliott, Jim Valenk and Bob Blackman joined the ranks of ex-Illini coaches.

With Moeller about to attempt to succeed in a situation where others failed, some questions strike me as being important. Can Illinois — or any Big Ten school, for that matter — break the stranglehold Michigan and Ohio State have had on the conference for the past nine seasons? How long will it take for that to be accomplished?

Is Gary Moeller the man to do that at Illinois? Obviously, the latter question can't be answered. He does have five years — a five-year contract — to provide an answer.

Moeller was somewhat of a surprise selection. The name of the Michigan assistant did not surface to the public until one day before he was introduced as the new coach. Moeller is not a "name" coach. But neither was Bo Schembechler when he was named Michigan coach.

"The first thing people asked when he got the job was who he was," Moeller said at his first press conference as the new Illini coach in Champaign. "They couldn't spell his name or pronounce it."

If you don't like the idea of hiring an assistant coach for the job, remember that Illinois tried the other approach. Blackman was a "name" head coach with a winning record, but his results were not what Athletic Director Cecil Coleman had in mind. It seems apparent Coleman is not one to tolerate mediocrity — even if it is an improvement over what the Illini had under Valek.

Moeller has two important things going for him — his comparative youth (35) and his association with winning programs at Michigan as a coach and Ohio State as a player. Coleman must think Moeller will have better rapport with his players and staff members and will be able to better recruit the talent in Illinois.

But how does Illinois go about catching Michigan and Ohio State?

"You have to work at it," Moeller responded. "You have to convince people they can come here and play. Illinois could have caught Michigan here (14-6 loss in '74 and 21-15 loss in '75)." Assuming the task is possible, how long will it take? Obviously, Moeller would like to do it in '77, but he's too realistic to expect that to happen. He doesn't know how long it will take and won't pinpoint a timetable.

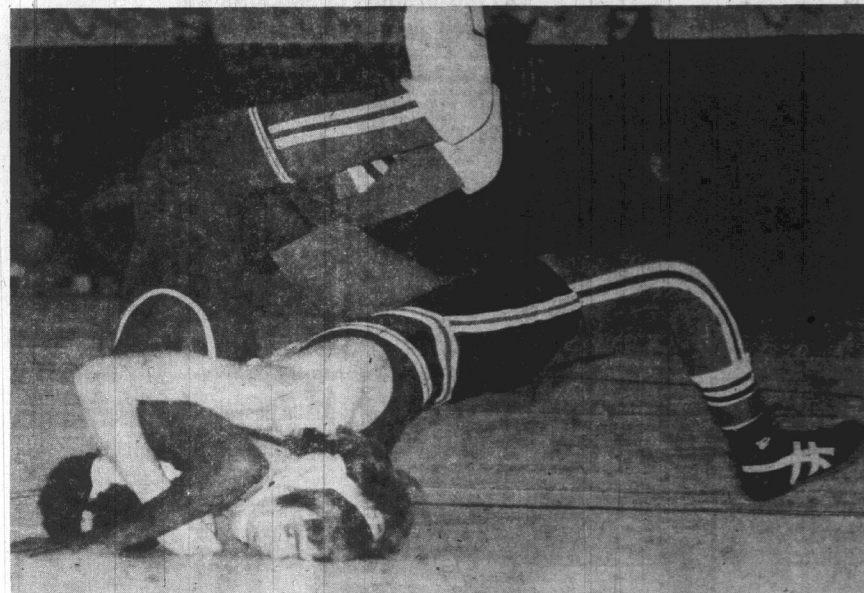

"We'll work in that direction pretty fast," he said. "Michigan and Ohio State are not in a complete class by themselves — I hope."

There is a noticeable difference between Moeller and his predecessor, Blackman, with a tendency to forecast greatness. People remembered what he said, and the result was that he had his foot in his mouth.

Moeller made no such predictions. Blackman's quotes were flashier, but what Moeller had to say was more believable.

Asked the inevitable question about his goal for '77, Moeller would not name one. He wouldn't be pinned down on when Illinois will be competitive in the Big Ten.

Asked about the players he is inheriting, Moeller begged off again. "It's hard to comment," he said. "As an opposing coach (which he was when Michigan played Illinois), you have a tendency to overestimate and underestimate a lot of strengths and weaknesses."

Moeller will have a senior quarterback in Kurt Steger, who has not lived up to his advance billing. (Maybe Blackman was guilty of overestimating Steger's ability.)

"Steger had some interceptions this year," Moeller recalled. "I've got to get to know him. A quarterback has to be confident."

"If the bases are loaded, he has to want to go to bat with two outs. He looks like a good quarterback."

Park basketball play to begin

Eighty-four Quad-City area youths — who have participated for the past month in basketball fundamental instruction — will open the Granite City Park District's 15th season of league competition Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Coolidge Junior High School gymnasium.

Moeller's primary objective is to recruit better talent than Blackman did — particularly within Illinois. It will be important for him to recruit a successor for Steger.

Awards for YMCA's soccer teams tonight

The Tri-City Area YMCA Soccer Association will hold its annual awards ceremonies at 7:30 this evening in the auditorium of GCSS South, with Warrior soccer mentor Gene Baker as guest speaker. Trophies will be presented to the top team in each of the seven divisions that competed during the 1976 fall season, plus individual player awards and certificates. A film on the sport will be shown prior to the award ceremonies. Teams finishing in order in the YMCA association standings are: Fee Wee — St. Elizabeth, Mitchell, House of Pancakes, St. Margaret Mary, Pelek Realty, Foreman Brick, Prairie Farm Dairy, Steve's Auto Body. Junior Atom — St. Elizabeth, St. John's United Church, St. Margaret Mary, GC Steel Credit Union, VFW Post 1300 and St. Elizabeth. Phil Hill, soccer association coordinator, said there will be no charge and the public is being invited to attend.

Signs to proclaim state soccer crown

Signs near Granite City High School South will soon be erected by the Granite City Street Department to show passing motorists that South is the winner of the 1976 state soccer championship. During Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting, Superintendent of Streets Leonard Portell showed the council one of the round signs, in the shape of a soccer ball, which bears the words, "Granite South, State Soccer Champions 1976." He requested and received permission to erect one sign near the soccer field on Fehling Road and to place the other near Madison Avenue and Namooki Road. The signs were designed and painted by city painters, he noted.

Illinois hunters complain

By ART SCHUMANN
 For years, Illinois sportsmen have complained about the way the state's deer season was handled by the Department of Conservation. Those complaints often fell on deaf ears — until this year when something happened to help make the department listen.

This year, one-third of all Illinois hunters requesting deer hunting permits failed to receive one. That's a total of 22,136 unsatisfied hunters and the loud clamor of complaints requesting a better method of spreading out hunting opportunities suddenly made an impression.

Now, the Department of Conservation has established a deer task force, consisting of department staff members, university biologists and hunters.

The job of the task force will be to take a good, hard look at the deer permit process and Illinois' deer management programs to determine if there are practical alternatives to current practices. It is hoped the alternatives would help provide more hunting opportunities in the future.

The state is asking all interested sportsmen to send their ideas and suggestions to the Department of Conservation and already the department's mailbox is starting to fill. Some of the suggestions received so far are:

— Have two, three-day seasons with different hunters each season.

— Have a bucks-only or partial bucks-only season.

— Allow persons who do not receive a permit in a certain year to have priority in the following year's allocation.

— Shorten the season and open it to anyone who wishes to hunt.

— Raise the permit fee.

— Divide hunters into two groups, with one allowed to hunt in the morning and the second in the afternoon.

— Require hunters to take a test to show they are serious about the sport.

— Give hunters only one chance of a county in which to hunt.

— Require hunters to verify that they have a place to hunt before they are issued a permit.

— Eliminate group applications.

How about you? Do you have any suggestions on how the deer season might be improved? If so, here's your chance to pass those ideas on to someone who will listen.

Sportsmen are requested to send their ideas to: Deer Task Force, Illinois Department of Conservation, 605 State Office Bldg., Springfield, Ill. 62766.

Speak out now.

Madison-St. Clair-Clinton-Monroe Counties unemployment has dropped from 10 to 7.9 per cent in the past year, the Illinois Labor Department said today.

Governor-elect James R. Thompson yesterday promised to halt budget deficits and to reduce the state treasury to adequate balances by 1979. Saying the state is in "serious financial condition," he set a five per cent limit on increases in general state spending in July 1977-June 1978. His cabinet appointments won't be announced until Jan. 11 or later.

Test in 1977 for strong Illinois Labor Federation

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD—The 80th Illinois General Assembly, which convenes in January, is certain to see a further intensification of the rivalry between labor and management.

This has become apparent as a result of legislative races in the November election, which saw Illinois business more active than ever before.

The Illinois Political Action Committee has claimed substantial success.

In its latest newsletter, IPAC states: "Highly successful efforts in the political arena this year by the Illinois Political Action Committee (IPAC) have helped narrow the labor-dominated majority in the Illinois legislature."

"While total victory cannot be claimed, it is obvious business is beginning to have a greater impact on the political process in Illinois."

IPAC reports that it was involved in 118 "key contests" for legislative seats and that in these races 106 candidates supported by IPAC won.

IPAC says it was involved in 93 House races, winning 83 of them, and had a winning percentage of 88 in 25 Senate contests.

It hails as its greatest victory the defeat of Democratic Sen. Robert W. McCarthy of Decatur, by Decatur Mayor James Rupp in the 51st district.

McCarthy is regarded as labor's chief spokesman in the Senate and was sponsor of the 1975 unemployment insurance bill, modified to a limited extent in this year's legislative session.

A preliminary analysis by IPAC shows a likely labor contingent of 29 in the Senate, with some 25 members judged as favorable to business. A majority in the Senate is 30 votes.

In the House, the IPAC analysis finds that organized labor can count on about 73 members while business can count on 80 supporters. It takes 68 votes to pass a bill in the House.

Although business may have scored some gains, a further analysis of the Nov. 2 returns shows that organized labor did not fare too badly, either.

Of legislative candidates endorsed by the Illinois State Federation of Labor (AFL-CIO) in pre-election issues of the organization's official newsletter, a total of 133 were elected and only 30 were defeated.

There were 23 victories in the Senate against 10 defeats and 109 House winners against only 20 losses. Like IPAC, the AFL-CIO did not make endorsements in every race.

The AFL-CIO backed only one Republican in a Senate race and its support might have been decisive in the re-election of incumbent John A. Davidson of Springfield in the 50th district embracing Sangamon and Montgomery counties.

Davidson turned back Democratic challenger Richard J. Durbin, 50.8 per cent to 49.2 per cent.

Of the 23 Republicans, mainly incumbents, receiving labor's endorsement in House races, 20 were winners and only three were losers.

While labor unquestionably still holds a definite edge in influence in the legislature, the November results do reflect a growing political awareness on behalf of the Illinois business community.

This long overdue concern with politics was stirred by the 1975 unemployment benefits legislation, which has been a special hardship, on small businesses.

Because of the continuing hull in the business recovery and growing concern that Illinois is losing industry and jobs to other states, economic issues will attract major attention during the 1977 session.

CANDIDATE FILING
Gary G. Barnstable, 2835 W. 22nd St., filed petitions of candidacy yesterday with Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens as a candidate for the two-year aldermanic term in the city's Fifth Ward.

Diabig Jim win too big?

SPRINGFIELD — Did Big Jim Thompson win too big? Some in Illinois politics think he did.

Republican James R. Thompson's 1.3 million vote plurality over once highly popular Democratic Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett may turn out to be a mixed blessing.

It could well hamper his efforts to be a success in his unprecedented two-year term as governor. Rather than be a propellant to even greater political success, it could be a boomerang to early disaster. Indeed, the rocketing of Thompson into the 1980 presidential picture is already sowing some seeds of trouble beneath the Statehouse dome.

It puzzles, amuses and irritates some practical politicians that Thompson should suddenly be regarded as a presidential timber on the basis of one election, which many of them consider a fluke.

Better, perhaps, had he squeezed in like President-elect Jimmy Carter and thus be more inclined to appeal to a divided electorate for support.

Charisma does not wear well at the Statehouse. Adulation from television pundits and syndicate writers in distant Washington does not necessarily help in achieving passage of nuts and bolts legislation in Springfield.

In fact it could be a handicap.

There already are some mutterings in Springfield, among Republicans as well as Democrats, that Thompson may be becoming too fascinated by the presidential possibility for his own good.

There also is a distinct odor of jealousy about the national attention being lavished on Thompson before he has even taken the oath as governor.

There is muted criticism about reported intentions of his wife, Jayne, to continue her work as a top legal executive in the office of Atty. Gen. William J. Scott via transfer from Chicago to Springfield.

A governor's wife in a high-paying state job of her own would set a precedent and relatives on the state payroll always has been a sensitive matter in Springfield.

This issue alone could touch off a feminist debate that would make the legislative hasslings over the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) look like a meeting of the Ladies' Aid.

Since the Nov. 2 election Thompson's stature has escalated nationally, but his image within Illinois and especially in this Capital City, may have diminished.

His post-election comment that he had received a "state-date" from the people to set things right in Illinois was not well received.

Updike's new novel below par

MARRY ME; by John Updike; Alfred A. Knopf; 303 pages; $7.95. Updike has written some fine novels but he might just as well have skipped this one. It isn't much more than a recitation on a new wrinkle in what might be called wife-swapping. Hopefully, Updike will try again — and harder.

LINDA MCCARTNEY'S PICTURES; by Alfred A. Knopf; 148 pages; $25. Linda McCartney became a professional photographer quite by accident but the quality of her pictures is no accident. She has included pictures, mostly in full color, that illustrate the warmth and feeling involved in her work.

There are Beatie pictures (remember her? The one with Paul McCartney?) and animal pictures and mood pictures. They all add up to a capsule look at this world of ours.

POCAHONTAS; by Frances Mossiker; Alfred A. Knopf; 383 pages; $12.95. Grammar school told all of us a bit about the Indian maiden, Pocahontas, but Mossiker has produced a volume that is an exciting narrative of consistent enjoyment. In a sense, her work is more than just a story of Pocahontas. It is a history of much of the 17th century — in Colonial America and in parts of Europe.

To many in politics this massive 3 million vote total was not a mandate for himself but a long-developing repudiation of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who put Howlett on the ballot.

The most critical period of Thompson's administration may well be the first six weeks. Because his term is for only two years, he must develop much sooner than other governors a good working relationship with the legislature.

This in itself poses a problem, since both House and

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Senate are firmly in Democratic control. Compromise must be the order of the day. Because of the brevity of his term, filling key cabinet and other high ranking posts may prove much more difficult than for his predecessors. But above all else the personal image which Thompson transmits to the legislators, others in government and the general public will determine his fate. His situation is not unlike that of the last Illinois governor to be a part of the presidential picture, Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

Legislators, including some Democrats as well as the controlling Republicans, were envious of the national attention increasingly afforded Stevenson and were not eager to assist in his political advance. However, Stevenson's situation was different from Thompson's in that he did not become a presidential possibility until after serving two years as governor. But events have shoved Thompson into the political bigtime within hours after his election. Nor did Stevenson have any presidential rivals within his own state. It is certainly no secret that U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy would still like a shot at the White House.

The Granite City Council Tuesday night gave careful consideration to a request by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. for a permit to excavate on city property before finally granting the permit.

Some aldermen said the careful consideration of the request should serve as a warning to the telephone company that future easement requests may be denied, unless the company returns talks with city officials to attempt and reach a new franchise agreement.

warning to the telephone company that future easement requests may be denied, unless the company returns to talks with city officials to attempt and reach a new franchise agreement.

The city and the company held talks until a month and a half ago, trying to reach

Whitmer contended granting any more free easements or permits to the telephone company would weaken the power of the committee to negotiate a good franchise.

Alderman Curtis Blevins of the Fifth Ward, who also is on the committee, said he agreed the city should carefully review all requests by the telephone company, but said the request being submitted Tuesday night was one which would allow a man to start a business. "I don't think we should keep this man from going into business, just because we have not settled our differences with Illinois Bell," Blevins told the council.

It was noted the telephone company wants to excavate 512 feet for a buried cable to 713 Twenty-sixth St. The work would begin at 2601 Nameoki Drive.

Blevins explained the gentleman who operates a burglar alarm answering service in Granite City is selling the business and the job is to be taken by the man at 713 Twenty-sixth St., when the necessary telephone connections can be completed.

The council approved the phone company's request on a 10-2 vote, but instructed the franchise committee to attempt to negotiate a deal with the Six inches of snow in first 4 days of year

A new three-inch snowfall, followed by a freezing drizzle in some parts of the area, hit the Quad-Cities Tuesday, falling on top of an earlier three-inch snow that fell Sunday.

Snowpacked and ice-covered streets snarled traffic during the late afternoon rush hour and many businesses, offices and plants let their employees off work early.

While the snow stopped falling during the late afternoon, side streets remained in hazardous condition for driving. The highways, however, were cleared and were in good condition by Tuesday night.

Lionel Portell, Granite City Street Superintendent, said that because the snow stopped and then resumed several times, street department workers treated major intersections on five different occasions through Tuesday.

Portell said that approximately 100 tons of salt were spread at intersections Tuesday, and that during snowstorms occurring so far this winter, his department has used about 300 tons of salt, compared to approximately 100 tons during an average year. He said he has ordered another 90 tons to be delivered this week.

Some street crews worked overnight Tuesday, he said. Madison and Venice street crews also worked into the night Tuesday to clear major intersections of slippery conditions.

More snow is predicted today with an accumulation of one to two inches expected. The National Weather Service reported today that snow this afternoon is expected to end tonight with temperatures dropping to a low of about 10 tonight.

More snow is possible Saturday with the mercury dipping to a low of 0 during the weekend, the forecast said.

14 tires damaged

Fourteen tires on five cars were slashed or punctured during the evening hours Monday or early Tuesday morning.

Three cars had two tires each slashed while parked on the curb on Fairbairns Drive. Each had the two left tires damaged.

Victims were John Sigite, 2719 Fairbairns Drive, Kenneth Sudholt, 3801 Fairbairns Drive, and Kenny Bertrand, 3704 Fairbairns Drive.

Dillie Kimbro, 2224 Dewey Ave., reported four tires on her car were punctured at her West Granite City home and George Enring, 2225 Edison Ave., said his car was parked at 23rd and Logan streets in West Granite City when all four tires were slashed.

$13,000 fire damage to mobile home

Fire damage was estimated at $13,000 to the double-wide mobile home of Francis Richardson, 4175 Breckenridge Lane, at 12:07 a.m. Wednesday, according to Long Lake Fire Chief C. Arnold-Rutherford.

The fire is believed to have started near a hot water heater in a utility room. There were 21 firemen at the scene for about two hours.

Just prior to the house fire, at 12:05 a.m., Long Lake firemen were called to extinguish an auto fire to a 1975 Vega owned by Steve Nikonovich Sr., on Younger Boulevard near Clark Avenue. Damage to the car was estimated at $150.

At 7 p.m. on Tuesday, an Illinois Power pole alongside Highway 162, one mile east of Highway 111, caught fire after a 34,000 volt line shorted out, according to Rutherford. Traffic and power in the area were interrupted for 45 minutes as firemen extinguished the fire.

Miss Asadorian is House page

State Representative Joe E. Luceo (D-Edwardsville) has secured the appointment of Miss Melanie Asadorian of Granite City as a page on the floor of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Miss Asadorian, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Asadorian, 217 Grand Ave., has taken a six-month leave of absence from her studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she is a junior year student.

A talented vocalist, the young woman is the first Madison County Fair queen. She began her duties Monday in the House and will continue serving as a page until July when the appointment could be extended.

another approach used at community health centers. Other in-depth studies deal more with a person's present life and its stresses.

The important matter is to find the therapy that is best suited to a particular need, and community mental health centers are set up to help do just that.

There are about 500 community mental health centers operated by state and local governments with funds from the federal government.

The cost of services depends on what a person can afford to pay. In fact, service usually is free for low-income persons. To find the nearest community mental health center, check your phone book, or ask your family doctor or clergyman for advice.

Road building boom ending

SPRINGFIELD — Quietly and with somewhat surprising abruptness a great era is coming to an end in Illinois! This is a half-century of road-building, which had its beginning with the start of mass production of automobiles in the 1920s.

Gov. Len Small, who served from 1921 to 1929, was the first of a number of Illinois governors to achieve political success through a reputation as road-builders. He started it all with a bond issue, a device used by various successors. It is said that Small won voter approval for the state's first highway bond issue referendum by promising about all Illinois communities, small as well as large, that they would be on a state highway.

Today as one drives in some rural areas of Illinois particularly in the deep south, the proof of this long ago promise is still evident. Old and narrow highways scarcely wide enough for two of today's cars to pass, wind through such forgotten towns as Lamb, Dale and Dixon Springs.

In the Great Depression highway construction became a source of needed jobs and federal financing entered the state scene on a grand scale.

The 1960s, reflecting the neglect of highways during World War II and the need for modern roads to serve a rapidly expanding economy, saw a great surge in highway construction both statewide and nationally.

Illinois under Gov. William G. Stratton rushed to meet its most critical highway problems with the construction of a toll road system in the Chicago metropolitan area and the four-laning of Route 66 connecting Chicago and St. Louis via Springfield. During the first term of President Dwight D. Eisenhower the vast Interstate highway network was launched and Illinois in the subsequent 20 years has been a busy participant. But now it is about all over.

This became evident at a recent Springfield hearing of the Illinois Transportation Study Commission. A parade of witnesses representing both business and farm groups called for an end to new highway construction with future emphasis to be placed on improving and maintaining existing roads.

It was an ironic turn of events since the commission was created in the mid-1960s to find ways to assure that eventually all residents of Illinois would be within 30 miles of a convenient highway to carry them to any city in the state with a population over 100,000.

There were grandiose plans for developing a 1,550-mile supplemental system to the 1,700-mile Interstate system now virtually completed.

Now it is becoming increasingly apparent that most of these proposed roads will die on the drawing board. They include such "dream" super-highways as one proposed to extend from Rockford via Decatur deep into Southern Illinois.

The main reason why this and other proposed roads will never be built is a lack of money. The federal highway financing program is phasing out and what road money Illinois has of its own will be required for maintaining existing roads.

Illinois road money traditionally comes from the state motor fuel tax and any increase in that, considering the current mood of the voters, would mean political suicide for those enacting it. Besides, engineers as well as unhappy taxpayers are questioning the need for more new roads. How many people really do drive from Decatur to Rockford?

A taxing issue — federal pay

By BENJAMIN SHORE WASHINGTON — How much is a federal "public servant" worth in hard currency?

Most taxpayers, fed up with bureaucratic inefficiency and disclosures of corruption and conflict of interest, would say politicians, judges and bureaucrats as a group are overpaid.

President Ford before he leaves office or Jimmy Carter shortly after he becomes president will have to deal with the question of executive-level salaries.

They have before them a thoughtful report by Peter Peterson, a former Commerce secretary under President Nixon and today a wealthy New York businessman, who chaired a special government commission to study the whole salary issue.

The real problem is convincing hard-pressed taxpayers that a government position paying $45,000 or more, plus attractive fringe benefits, should pay even more.

It is a delicate problem politically because many officials aren't worth half their present salaries.

Congress especially is a frustrating situation. All its members are elected and all are paid the same to do basically the same job. But it is obvious to even a casual observer that many are greatly overpaid in relation to the quality of their work.

Peterson and others are concerned about the growing resistance of businessmen, lawyers, scholars and others to leave their present positions, even temporarily as in the case of a presidential appointment.

While many decline government job offers because they feel the bureaucracy would frustrate them, others are simply concerned over the financial picture. Mr. Carter has learned this the hard way in his recruitment efforts.

How does a president or a cabinet officer convince a successful businessman or lawyer to give up the fruits of that success and serve the public if such service requires substantial personal sacrifice?

He doesn't do it easily.

He increasingly finds himself limited to extremely wealthy individuals (whose wealth often is derived from questions that could raise questions about conflict of interest) or young inexperienced persons who see government service as a stepping-stone to higher positions upon return to private life.

There was a time not too long ago when many successful citizens considered government service a noble, often fulfilling, experience. Some presidents were able to inspire this attitude.

But revelations of corruption around the White House and on Capitol Hill have made all public servants suspect in the eyes of many taxpayers.

Since the majority of these people are honest and hard-working and eager to do a good job for their government, the public's suspicion frequently beats them down and out.

It's hard to expect qualified people to make personal sacrifices that most of us would not make. And it's easy to imagine the quality of persons willing to accept positions others turn down solely for personal financial reasons.

It would seem, therefore, that an immediate upward adjustment in pay will be necessary.

Recognizance bond

Steven W. Harris, 27, of 2133 Bern Ave. was arrested at Benton and Oregon streets at 1:35 a.m. Wednesday and was charged with aggravated assault.

His former wife, Mrs. Suzanne Harris, 203 Wilson Park Lane, alleged her former husband caused trouble at her home at 12:35 a.m. Wednesday, left and then returned with a shotgun. After she called police, he put the shotgun in the trunk of his car, she alleged.

Police alleged finding a shotgun in the trunk when they stopped Harris' auto. He was released on his own recognizance.

Scoreboard donated to Venice schools

The Venice Board of Education accepted an illuminated basketball scoreboard and authorized its installation in the gymnasium at last night's board meeting.

Jack Tolliver, president, said the scoreboard was donated to the school district by the Venice Adult Boosters Club and First National Bank in Madison.

In other business, the board hired Mrs. Margie McGarran of Venice as Title VII remedial reading teacher. She taught previously in the Title I program at Venice.

Mrs. McGarran replaces the late Mrs. Kathleen Ann Fields, who was fatally injured with her 3-year-old son, Christopher, in an auto crash Dec. 22 on Route 102.

The board also hired Marie

Gray as temporary secretary in the Title VII office during the absence of Mrs. Helen Pier, who is hospitalized.

Joe Willie Roberts, Venice Schools security officer, was granted a leave of absence through April 15, due to his new appointment as Venice Township road commissioner.

Johnny Jackson, 40, of 206 Watson Road, Eagle Park Acres, was named as temporary replacement for Roberts.

Supt. Robert N. Vickers was asked to seek bids for an upright deepfreeze and a 10-burner gas cooktop for the cafeteria. Both items may be acquired through the Non-Foods Assistance Program, which allows 75 per cent reimbursement on such purchases.

Halt disturbance near lounge, three arrested

Three youths from Missouri were arrested as police broke up a large gathering and halted several disturbances under and around the canopy at the entrance to Rico's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road, at 12:25 a.m. today.

A policeman on patrol reported seeing a large group of persons gathered near the entrance to the lounge and as he approached, he reported seeing several persons pushing, scuffling and swinging fists.

He said there was a lot of yelling and called for assistance. Three police cars arrived to quell the disturbance and many of those in the crowd left. A lounge security guard aided police in stopping the rest of the fights and in arresting three persons.

Charged with disorderly conduct were Linda Thornburgh, 17, Berkeley, Mo., Mark Quigle, 19, Berkeley, Mo., and Dennis Johndrow, 24, St. Charles, Mo.

James R. Thompson will be inaugurated as governor, Alan J. Dixon as secretary of state, William J. Scott as attorney general, David C. O'Neal as lieutenant governor and Michael J. Bakalis as comptroller at 11 a.m. Monday at the capitol in Springfield.

If more than 2,500 attend, the ceremony will be shown "live" on closed-circuit TV at the Holiday Inn East and Forum 30.

There will be a symphony concert Monday evening in the Capitol, attended by Governor and Mrs. Thompson, and they and the O'Neals will be honored at an inaugural ball at 8 p.m. Monday at Forum 30.

Joint meeting lacks quorum

Poor driving conditions attributed to snow were believed responsible for failure to have a quorum present at last night's meeting of the joint community development citizens' advisory committees of Nameoki Township and Pontoon Beach.

Louis Whisell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, and Floyd David Moss, president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board, therefore have called a recessed meeting of the two committees for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 18, at the Nameoki Town Hall, 4250 Highway 162.

The groups are to discuss guidelines for using a grant the township has received for housing rehabilitation. Pontoon Beach is to share in the spending of the grant funds, since most of the village is in Nameoki Township.

Hurt on Nameoki

Mrs. Sandra Sorter, 29, of 2320 Dwight Drive, Mitchell, was injured when her auto and the car of Paul Shupert, 658 Chouteau Ave., Mitchell, collided at Nameoki Road and Leonard Avenue at 3:25 p.m. Wednesday. Shupert was charged with a stop sign violation.

Mrs. Sorter went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where x-rays were taken for head and back pain and she was released.

Frank Windsor dies at 96

Frank R. Windsor, 96, of 3716 Nameoki Road, a 62-year resident of Granite City, died at 2:40 p.m. Wednesday at the Colonades Nursing Home.

He was born in Hornsby, Ill. Mr. Windsor retired in 1946 as a telegrapher after 36 years service with the New York Central Railroad.

Mr. Windsor was a member of The First Church of Christ Scientists.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Xi Epsilon Chi views hobbies

Toile work and decorative painting were hobbies explored by members of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, on Monday night.

The group visited the new Hobby Horse Shoppe, 2122 Pontoon Road, where Mrs. Tody Kaler, co-owner and a chapter member, described and demonstrated different craftwork.

She also reviewed instruction programs being conducted at the shop and invited members to experiment with various crafts to discover their particular interest.

Miss Marilyn Lumpkins, president, was in charge of a business session after the program. She announced Mrs. Carolyn Goodwin has transferred her membership to a Beta Sigma Phi chapter in Alton.

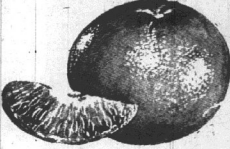

She distributed dance tickets and said each chapter will nominate a candidate to be honored at the affair. Mrs. Carol Cathey received the traveling gift basket.

Also attending were Janet Monaghan, B. J. Jones, Donna Lane and Linda Koenig.

MANHANDLER. Mark Sinclair of Ballwin, Mo., has a strange hold over women, especially this plastic woman he made in an art class at SIUE. He made quite a stir on campus when he carried his homework to class. Sinclair is a senior majoring in sculpture at SIUE.

Valuation

where assessment ratios were considered extremely low. The action resulted in a series of law suits by rural landholders who claimed the upward adjustments were excessive.

The county, as a result of those increases, was able to keep its overall assessments within the legal requirement and therefore avoided a multiplier by the state on a countywide basis.

Barton explained today that "unless his office makes the assessment adjustments in the individual townships to meet the 1976 (second year) requirements of the law, it is possible the county could receive a state multiplier."

"If we get a state multiplier, it applies to all taxpayers in all parts of the county and applies to personal property valuations as well as real estate," Barton said.

"Therefore the individual township adjustments must be properly made to avoid a state multiplier."

To avoid a state multiplier, he said, the county must achieve an overall county assessment ratio this year of 31.34 per cent, and in 1978 must again increase the ratio to the required 33.3 per cent.

According to Barton, a multiplier for Granite City Township assessment is necessary because the assessments here have fallen to a point somewhere below 30.5 per cent, which was the 1975 ratio. The exact ratio at this time will be determined by computation of the new assessment figures which is now under way. Once those computations are completed, the amount of assessment increase by use of a multiplying factor can be determined, he said.

Coincidentally, Barton explained, the ratio of 31.34 is the figure required for Granite City township this year. With the present ratio now believed lower than 30 per cent, a multiplier would be needed, he said.

Records show that the Granite City assessment cash value ratio was 37.16 per cent in 1973, dropped to 33.36 in 1974 and fell to 30.5 per cent in 1975.

Barton said that all township assessors were informed of their requirements, ratio increases and instructed in operations to comply with the new law during meetings held last June. Once the books are turned over to the county assessor, however, they are no longer within the local assessors' jurisdiction.

He said the ratio of Nameoki township is now 32.54 per cent, and that in Chouteau Township is now 34.31. "These are in a good range and there will be no change in those townships," Barton said.

In Venice township, however, the ratio this year is 43.88 per cent, which means that taxpayers there are paying more taxes than those of other townships where the assessments are at a lower ratio of fair cash value, Barton noted.

Venice is an exception as far as adjustment of the books by the local assessor is concerned, he explained. He said that because of the high ratio in Venice, the books are being adjusted by the local assessor to achieve a lower assessment, rather than have the Board of Review declare a "negative multiplier," a procedure which would require new computation of all assessments in the township.

Cruse said today that he does not believe a multiplier will be necessary. He said a considerable amount of property was reassessed this year and that he is certain Granite City's assessments will meet the ratio and requirements of the second-year phase of the state law.

He admitted, however, that application of a multiplier would be a serious blow to Granite City taxpayers, noting that the sales price of real estate is constantly increasing, thereby increasing valuations and the amount of taxes to be paid.

Barton said that unless Madison County can remain with its present state multiplier of 1.0, "we could be in for real trouble."

"For example, last year several counties received multipliers that jumped their assessments and tax bills sky high. St. Clair County received a state multiplier of 1.18 per cent and Calhoun County had to multiply its assessments by 1.74. Jersey County had a multiplier of 1.403 and Washington County had a multiplier of 1.32. Others included Bond County 1.14; Macoupin County 1.25 and Montgomery County 1.51."

He said that if the multiplier is necessary, the amount required will be established and a recommendation made to the Board of Review which can order the multiplier.

Venice awaits grant notice

Mayor William Ebersoldt informed the Venice City Council Tuesday night that the city has not yet received official confirmation of a grant approval of $361,486 for repairs to the eastern approach of McKinley Bridge.

The money will be used to rebuild the Illinois approach to the McKinley Bridge and was reported approved Dec. 23 by the Economic Development Agency under the Local Public Works Act.

Mayor Ebersoldt said that when the city receives the written confirmation, the aldermanic bridge committee and engineers are ready to get under way.

"It was explained that there would be no interruption of traffic flow when the repair work does begin. Estimated time for final processing of the grant is four to six weeks."

Traffic over the McKinley toll bridge in December 1976 was 214,291 vehicles for a daily average of 6,913 which is an increase of 111 vehicles per day over December 1975.

The report was made by Duane S. Georgelt, bridge manager.

"The increase in traffic means an increase of revenue, but we are still way behind what we feel it could be," Mayor Ebersoldt said.

"I would like to take this time to compliment Alderman John Ervin and the other aldermen that worked with him in regards to our city telephones. The arrangements worked out with the telephone company will save the city about $200 a month and that adds up," Mayor Ebersoldt said.

The council approved $125 expenses for Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley to attend the Illinois Chiefs of Police convention Jan. 22 through Jan. 25 in St. Louis.

Kevin Jones, 20, of 2311 State St., was arrested by Granite City police Monday on a warrant alleging assault.

Jones is accused of being among three persons who entered the apartment of Cindy Evans, 4910 Kirkpatrick Homes Dec. 6, displayed weapons and threatened to kill Arthur "Binky" Billick in the home.

Jones pleaded innocent in court in Granite City Monday and requested a jury trial. He was released on his own recognizance.

Kiwanians plan boat races— for next July

There may be snow and ice on the ground, but the Granite City Evening Kiwanis Club at its Tuesday evening meeting began to plan for the 19th annual Kiwanis boat races.

The dates are set for Saturday, July 16, and Sunday, July 17, and the club again will seek permission to use Horseshoe Lake.

Kiwanian Darryl Lindsay was appointed chairman of the event by President Allen Jensen.

Other Kiwanis members on the committee are Paul Bogosian, Bill Seebold Sr., Robert Richardson and Gary Davis.

The local Kiwanians again will try to hold the official East-West Championship races at the event.

Hydroplanes reach speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour and the event attracts drivers from several states.

Insurance problems solved; CHORBUS trips to resume

Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City yesterday afternoon resolved an insurance problem which has halted operation of the Community Handicapped and Older Riders Bus (CHORBUS) program since the weekend.

Based upon an estimate from

Bob Scheibel of the Zimmerman Insurance Agency that annual liability and collision insurance for the Granite City and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville CHORBUS buses would cost a total of $2,167, SUIE and the Granite City Council agreed to purchase the insurance, each paying half the cost. Scheibel later said the insurance company, the Schickendans Insurance Agency of Belleville, had made a mistake and the insurance would cost $2,167 per year for each bus.

Schuler and George Arnold, chairman of the executive committee of SUIE, agreed the cost was too high to share and both sides dropped their offer to pay for the insurance. The buses then halted operation. Schuler met yesterday with Bill Nelson, representative of the Wightman Agency, St. Louis, which is preparing a package insurance policy for the city, and worked out a liability and collision insurance policy for the Granite City bus costing $794 per year. A similar policy is to be presented to SUIE for their CHORBUS vehicle. Schuler said the $794 package the city is accepting is basically the same policy for which $2,167 was sought in the previous offer. He said the new policy does require that the drivers of the bus be older than 25 years of age and younger than 65.

The CHORBUS vehicles carry handicapped and elderly persons to their destinations, upon request. Transportation for about 16 handicapped persons attending SUIE was planned to start from school, but the start of that program was delayed by the insurance problem. Schuler said the bus should be on the streets again and resuming service to SUIE by Monday.

Tuition must and austerity budget recommended by board

Substantial reductions in the budget requests of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the 1977-78 fiscal year have been recommended by the staff of the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

The board staff also is recommending a 10 percent increase of $90 per academic year for undergraduate students and $120 for graduate students, as well as further reductions in institutional funds granted to students.

Staff budget recommendations were announced Wednesday by James M. Furman, executive director of the IBHE, in Springfield.

The recommendations will be considered by the Board of Higher Education at its January meeting next Tuesday, Jan. 11, at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel.

James F. Metcalf, SIUE budget director and acting vice-president for business affairs, said yesterday the IBHE is recommending a legislative approval of $33,858,100 in operating funds and $1,495,000 in capital improvement funds for SIUE.

The operating recommendation is 93 percent of the university's request, while the capital proposal is only three percent of the amount sought, Metcalf said.

Of the major items in the university's capital budget request, the IBHE staff is recommending $190,000 in planning funds for a physical education building.

No funding is being recommended for a fine arts building and a health professions facility. It takes three to nine times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

The IBHE staff is recommending $300,000 for remodeling School of Dental Medicine buildings on the Alton grounds and $167,000 for a satellite dental clinic in East St. Louis.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Jan. 6, 1977 Page 24

Other capital projects recommended include remodeling a furnace hood system in the Science Building, masonry repair to campus core buildings, remodeling of core buildings for the handicapped, and resurfacing roads and drives.

The board staff recommendations would provide an average salary increase of seven per cent, with an additional two per cent for low-salaried nonacademic employees.

The recommendations also provide for a general price increase of five per cent for most goods and services, nine per cent for equipment and library materials, and 12.5 per cent for utilities.

Furman said the staff is proposing additional funding of $2.7 million for the Illinois State Scholarship Grant Program to offset the financial impact of the tuition increase on needy undergraduate students.

For public universities, the total increase in state appropriations totaling $111,248,800 for operating funds, an increase of six per cent over this year's $104,265,000.

In addition to the $33,858,100 proposed for SIUE operations, the IBHE staff is proposing $76,515,100 for SIUE at Carbondale and $776,000 for the System Offices.

This year's appropriations included $20,022,000 for SIUE, $71,432,976 for SIU at Carbondale and $748,000 for the System Offices.

In the legislative override session, funds were restored for some operations and grants, with spending limits on the SIU System totaling $876,500 for personal services and $406,000 for contractual-medical services.

At SIUE, the university is seeking $1.6 million for new and expanded programs in fiscal year 1978.

Of the total, the IBHE staff is recommending legislative approval of $385,000. No funding is endorsed for a new program — a free-standing graduate option — in gerontology, for which $73,000 is requested. Program expansions and the amounts recommended by the IBHE staff for SIUE include (amounts requested shown in parentheses): Open University, $19,000

($75,000); School of Nursing, $100,000 ($169,125); doctor of education in the instructional process, $12,000 ($55,720); master of science in environmental studies, $50,000 ($73,400); School of Dental Medicine, $170,000 ($402,000); and bachelor of science in engineering, $34,000 ($34,700). No recommendations were made for three other expanded program requests: Environmental Resources Training Center, $92,000; Graduate School, organized research, $75,000; and Biology-Medical Technology option, $21,260. The board staff is recommending the funding of $1.5 million to the IBHE for a grant to the Southwestern Illinois Public Television Corporation for development of an educational television broadcast facility at SIUE. The proposed facility would consist of land for a transmitter tower and building, the tower and building supporting utilities, and a portion of the required equipment — such as an antenna, transmitter and transmission line. The staff also recommended $30,000 in operating planning funds preceding completion of construction of the television facility. Metcalf said that in addition to the recommended tuition increases, which would increase the local university's income fund by $1,138,100, the board staff is recommending a reduction amounting to $190,000 in tuition waivers granted by the institution.

Veizer suggests safer winter driving steps

With the holidays in the past and winter just coming into its prime, the outlook is still bleak for persons who don't enjoy winter driving, according to Chief Ronald J. Veizer of the Granite City Police Department.

"The two main problems that give drivers the most trouble are reduced visibility and inadequate traction," the chief explained. "The National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards has studied these problems for years, and has learned a lot about them."

Veizer listed the following steps to safer winter driving revealed by the council's winter driving research:

It should be an ingrained habit with all drivers now to get the "feel" of the road (and the car) when starting out, or when conditions change.

"The technique referred to is that of accelerating carefully to see if your wheels spin; or, of braking gently to see if they slide. When you find the slide point, reduce your speed and extend your following distance accordingly," he said.

"Note, also, how your brakes are operating. Water, overnight moisture, or the need for adjustment can cause slipping or grabbing brakes that can throw you out of control."

The chief's recommendation was one of six developed by the National Safety Council's skid-testers and endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He cited them as follows:

"Increase following distances when conditions deteriorate. It takes three to nine times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement."

"Pump your brakes to slow or stop—don't jam them. An intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control."

"Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studded snow tires (used in areas and during times when permitted) offer still more help on icy surfaces."

"Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to seven times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires."

"Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades gone dead from exposure to sun, wind and oily road film. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate anti-freeze."

Chief Veizer concluded with one more vital suggestion:

"A driver held fast by a safety belt and harness can maintain control better under any conditions. If both he and his passengers have this protection, they will be safer from injury in the event an unavoidable crack-up does occur," he said.

Mrs. Grace Taff, 83, dies

Mrs. Grace E. (Sneeringer) Taff, 83, of Granite City, died at 1 p.m. Tuesday at Colomades Nursing home where she had been a patient a year and a half.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

TRACY LANES FINEST: Tour with me in this 1680 square feet of luxury. Let's start with the heated swimming pool, walk down to the sunken brick patio and into the custom rathskeller. Look at that crackling fireplace next to the custom built bar, cozy huh? Let's go next to the 3 oversized bedrooms, you might notice that each room, including the 3 bathrooms, have individual thermostats for the radiant heat, now let's look at the completely built-in kitchen next to the dining room, the decorator has very good taste all the way through including the 20 foot living room. Oh yes, besides the 2 car attached garage this home is situated on a landscaped one-third acre.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY: 3 bedroom ranch, living room, dining room, country style kitchen, 1 1/2 car garage, extra nice. $18,000.

DOLLAR-WISE: This may be your best lifetime investment. Large living-dining room combo over 23 feet long. 2 spacious bedrooms, eat in type kitchen with a pantry, new wall to wall carpet thru-out, full basement, carpet, Adams Street.

ARNOLD DRIVE: Luxury family living, 3 bedrooms, cove and swirl ceiling in the living room and formal dining room, watch the wife's eyes sparkle as she sees the 18x14 foot kitchen with all the custom built-in, the kids will love the 36x12 foot family room and dad will love the 2 car attached garage. 3 per cent loan available to help with the family budget.

THE GIANT SLEPT HERE: Two 21x15 foot bedrooms will give you just a small hint of the room sizes, formal dining room, living room, fireplace, basement, plus plus. $17,900.

In Memoriam 33

In Loving Memory of PAUL K. PASSIG

at LOUISE ELLIS
September 2, 1974
We cannot say and we will not say.
That they are dead.
They are just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand.
They were wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair the world was.
Their needs must be, since they linger there.
And they — oh they, who the wisest yearn.
For the old-time peace and the glad return.
Think of them faring on as dear In the love of, there as the love of here.
Think of them still as the same we say.
They are not dead — they are just away.

He did not one last farewell, Not even a goodbye.
He was so kind, we knew it And only God knows why.
They say time heals all sorrow And helps to forget.
But time so far has only proved How much we miss him yet.
God gives us strength to face it And courage to live the blow But what it meant to lose him. No one will ever know.
Our hearts ache with sadness, Our eyes are wet with tears. God knows how much we miss him.
And will throughout the years. Loved and missed by Judy, Michelle and Michael and Family 33 1 6

Despite talk about a shift from corn back to soybeans in 1977, a new survey of Illinois farmers does not indicate a mass shift to soybeans in the coming crop year.

Seventy-nine per cent of farm attending Illinois Farm Bureau marketing and commodities conferences say they will not plant more acres of soybeans or less of corn or wheat in 1977. The other 21 per cent of the farmers intend to plant more soybeans and fewer acres of corn or wheat.

Policy manual praised

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been notified that its manual of operations, entitled "Procedures, Policies and Practices for Personnel in Academic Affairs" has been selected as a model of university personnel policy documents.

According to the Educational Resources Information Center of the U.S. Office of Education, the local manual of operations is being cited in "Resources in Education," a publication of the ERIC Clearinghouse on Higher Education, a joint venture of George Washington University and the U.S. Office of Education.

Warren Joseph, assistant vice-president for personnel affairs at SIUE and largely responsible for compilation and editing of the policies manual, said, "The university is pleased that such recognition has been afforded this effort to codify and disseminate policies to all the faculty and administrative staff."

Joseph said the policies manual is currently undergoing its second revision in four years, with publication of the revision planned for mid-winter. "There have been many contributions," he said, "not the least of which is represented by the continuing policy statements and revisions which have been received as recommendations from the Welfare Council of the University Senate and subsequently implemented as policy."

The policies manual, intended to assist both with the general preparation of personnel matters and the necessary documents for placing appointments on the official payroll of the university, includes guidelines on budget authority and responsibility, faculty and administrative staff requirements and appointments, salaries, tenure and graduate student employees.

ERIC has assigned the SIUE manual a document number and will make it available on microfiche in libraries and reference centers in the U.S. and abroad.

GRANITE CITY COMMUNITY UNIT DISTRICT No. 9

Community Newsletter

Superintendent's Corner

As a result of a recommendation from the Citizens Advisory Committee and with the approval of the Board of Education, a report will be published to you, the public, periodically throughout the year.

It is hoped that you will find this helpful in understanding more about your school. We have chosen this method of distribution in the hope that more of our patrons will receive it than would receive it were it sent home with pupils, and it will reach those homes that do not have children in school at the present time.

In this first report, I will discuss the decline in our pupil enrollment and what it has meant and could mean to your schools.

Since its inception as a Community Unit School District in 1950, District 9 witnessed a continual growth in its pupil enrollment. This growth continued to accelerate until the middle of the 1960s with a growth rate of approximately 500 pupils per year.

To accommodate this growth, the patrons of District 9 approved several referendums, the last being in 1968, to construct new buildings, renovate older buildings, and to provide the staff necessary for this growth.

In the 1970-72 year, a slight drop in enrollment was noted. This was the beginning of what has been a steady decline in our pupil enrollment; and since 1972 Community Unit School District No. 9 has lost 2525 pupils.

The reasons for the decline are varied; but, of course, the major contributing factor is that the social trend is toward smaller families. Each year our kindergarten class becomes smaller, with the exception of the 1975-76 class; and according to the survey conducted last year for the District by the P.T.A., the decline in enrollment is expected to continue into the next decade.

Just as there were opportunities and problems during the enrollment growth period, there are opportunities and problems as a result of declining enrollment. It has been possible in the past four years to find space in the buildings to provide some supportive instructional programs; such as, learning centers and resource rooms. Also, use of substandard classroom space has been eliminated and this has reduced which enables the staff to provide a more individualized instructional program.

In addition to the opportunities afforded by the decline in enrollment, there are some problems that must be dealt with.

Although all schools have lost pupils, the decline in the enrollment is not uniform across the District. Matching staff and pupils to keep class sizes down and yet not be economically impractical, is a continuous struggle and is not likely to be resolved in the near future.

The area of finance, of course, is the most pressing problem. This District receives 49 per cent of its revenue from State Aid. State Aid for schools (funds) is determined to a large degree by average daily attendance figures. As enrollments decline so do attendance figures; thus, less State Aid. This becomes even more of a problem when the decline in enrollment is coupled with inflation. Any savings that might be realized due to curtailment of expenditures are not available due to the constantly increasing costs.

The U. S. Office of Education has projected a decline in the nation's school enrollments of 12 per cent from 1972-73 to 1982-83, but estimates that operating costs for schools will increase by 25 per cent and the overall expenditure per pupil will increase 40.9 per cent.

Compounding this problem is that State Aid is reduced within one year due to a decline in enrollment while any savings that can be made, excluding an inflationary factor, needs several years to respond.

Generally, the only really significant reduction in expenditures can be made through reduction of staff and the closing of facilities. Community Unit 9 has reduced its staff over the past two years. This has included teachers, administrators, and non-teaching staff. This has been accomplished by not replacing people as they retire or resign from the District.

The Citizens Advisory Council has been charged by your Board of Education to establish a Task Force on Declining Enrollments. This Task Force is now functioning and will report back to you when it has completed its study.

The growth years are over; and it will be sometime before the District experiences them again. We must, however, not let the lack of physical growth keep us from continuing to promote quality education with continual assessment of programs offered. Money and human resources will still be needed.

The temptation will exist to re-direct revenue sources to other priorities or to the simplified assumption that fewer pupils in the schools will lessen the need for continuing educational effort. This is far from reality. A lessening of dedication will pay poor dividends in the years to come.

I know the citizens of Community Unit School District 9 will meet these new challenges and problems in the same outstanding manner as in the past.

Reading Lab

For the past two years a reading laboratory has been in operation at Grigsby Junior High School. This began as a pilot program and involved one half of the student body. The reading program is completely individualized and geared toward individual needs. This year the entire seventh grade is involved in the reading laboratory through their language arts class. The overall purpose of this program is to increase and improve the reading ability and attitude of each student in the program. This includes materials on improving reading comprehension, vocabulary, word recognition, rate of reading, and listening skills. The students also develop a more positive attitude toward reading and have shown signs of improvement in reading.

The reading lab is operated by a teacher with the assistance of the language arts classroom teacher. The materials used include filmstrips, tape cassettes, workbooks, vocabulary tapes and listening tapes.

Noting a significant decline in Latin enrollments from the fall of 1971 to the fall of 1973, the Board of Education of Community Unit District No. 9 asked for a three-year study of the district's foreign language offerings. The 62 students enrolled in Latin I in September, 1971, had dwindled to 48 students by the spring of 1973. While enrollment in the fall of 1972 began with 55 students, by the end of the four-semester sequence in the spring of 1974, it had fallen to 32 students. The sequence beginning in 1973 started with 45 students and decreased to 48 for Latin II, 29 for Latin III, and 28 for Latin IV by the spring semester of 1975. A fourth sequence beginning with the fall of 1974 was charted with 78 students in Latin I, 59 in Latin II, 49 in Latin III, and 46 in Latin IV by spring, 1976. The latest sequence began with 28 students enrolled in Latin I in September, 1975, six of whom had dropped by the spring of 1976. If the trend continues, only 17 to 21 students will have completed Latin IV by next spring.

In an effort to offer students an alternative, the district attempted to implement a French offering two years ago, but the program met with little success. In the meantime, eighth grade students were surveyed annually to determine their interests and needs in the foreign language curriculum. Comparisons between what students said they planned to take, however, and what they actually enrolled in as high school students showed practically no agreement.

Included in the data reported to the board during the summer of 1976 were enrollment figures in 10 to 16 foreign languages offered by Illinois institutions of higher learning, including 33 junior colleges, 24 colleges, and 14 universities, also experiencing declining enrollments in many foreign languages.

Nationally, the trend is parallel in high schools. Over a five-year period, Spanish enrollments in U.S. high schools have increased 26.9 per cent; German enrollments have increased 25.2 per cent; Italian has increased 8.3 per cent. On the minus side, French has decreased 1.7 per cent; Russian, 24.5 per cent; and Latin, 55.1 per cent.

Based on local data, the recommendations for District 9 were as follows:

1. Beginning in the Fall of 1977, no new sequence of Latin offerings should be initiated. Students who have completed Latin I at that point in time would be permitted to continue through the remainder of the four-semester sequence, and the offering would be phased out ending in the Spring of 1978.

2. Beginning in the Fall of 1977, no new sequence of French offerings should be initiated. Students who have completed French I at that point in time would be permitted to continue through the remainder of the four-semester sequence, and the offering would be phased out ending in the Spring of 1978.

3. We should remain alert to development trends and cognizant of student needs and interests in the Foreign Language areas. Change can occur rapidly, often through unpredictable circumstances, and planning future offerings in our program should develop with a continuing awareness of any needs that accompany such change.

Copies of the complete report are available at the Board of Education offices, 20th and Adams Streets.

Title 1 Pre-School Center

Our district operates a Title I Pre-school program under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Lahr. The Pre-school Center is located at 25th and Logan Avenue, more commonly known as Old Logan.

Pre-school classes for four-year-olds are provided only for the Title I centers. Certain five year old children, for whom kindergarten is not recommended, may be admitted to the pre-school classes preparatory to entering kindergarten the following year. Pre-school enrollment requires such recommendation by the school, parental consent, and available space. The classes, limited to an enrollment of fifteen students, meet daily for a 2 1/2 hour session. The students are instructed by certificated kindergarten teachers.

The daily instructional activities are largely determined by the individual needs of the students of the class. These activities usually fall into seven developmental areas.

1. Oral communication skills
2. Perceptual development
3. Pre-reading skills
4. Pre-math skills
5. Habits of cleanliness
6. Working co-operatively and independently
7. Individual creativity and appreciation

Sensorimotor activities are scheduled for a twenty-five minute period. Students who qualify for special help, are scheduled by the nurse for a twenty-minute sensorimotor exercise session.

The nurse, located at the Pre-school Center, administers audio and vision tests to all students during the first six weeks of school. She makes follow-up calls on parents and other community organizations as needed. The nurse also discusses the daily snack with the students. This gives her an opportunity to stress the importance of a varied and balanced nutritious snack.

There are three full-time teacher-assistants and two part-time assistants to assist teachers of the four-year olds. The assistants are responsible for preparation and serving of snacks. One assistant accompanies the students on the bus trip to and from the Pre-school Center.

Each Pre-school teacher has one Friday per month for student records, home visits or any other activity pertinent to student needs.

Who & When

Citizens of the community are often unsure whom to contact when they want to discuss a particular situation. We hope to answer those commonly asked questions and establish a procedure to follow that will get an answer to your question as quickly as possible.

BAD WEATHER

If you are unsure of school attendance due to weather conditions such as snow or ice, we suggest you listen to WGNW, KSD, KMOX, or KKOK on your radio. These stations will be contacted immediately after a decision has been made. Please do not call your local school or the Board Office. These offices are usually understaffed on these days and you will probably get an answer just as quickly by listening to the radio.

It is not the practice of the district to dismiss school early due to weather conditions. We feel too many students, especially those in elementary school, would not have adequate supervision of such short notice.

EVENING CLASSES

Belleville Area College is not a part of our district although they do conduct evening classes at GCIS-South. They maintain office hours from 1:00 to 9:00 p.m. and may be reached by calling 876-7570.

ATTENDANCE

If you need verification of school attendance for records, please address your questions to the registrar at either GCIS-South or GCIS-North. Since GCIS-North has been in operation a relatively short period of time, most inquiries would go to GCIS-South.

STUDENT PROGRESS

If you wish to discuss the progress of your child, we suggest that you contact the teacher or principal and arrange an appointment. Teachers and principals will be very accommodating and make special effort to discuss and situation with concerned parents or students.

Learning Centers in Elementary Buildings

WHAT IS A LEARNING CENTER?

A Learning Center is a facility housed in each of our elementary schools that is equipped with multilevel materials chosen to provide meaningful activities for individual student's needs and interests. All children are permitted to attend for remediation, reinforcement, instruction, and/or enrichment. It is sometimes described as the extra help and attention beyond what the regular classroom teachers can provide.

WHEN WERE THEY ESTABLISHED?

During the school year 1971-72, Niedringhaus, Nameki, Emerson, and Wilson began a pilot program. Due to the favorable response from students, teachers, staff, and parents, it was decided to add four new centers each year until all Granite City elementary schools were so equipped. This was realized in 1975-76, as scheduled.

WHY WERE LEARNING CENTERS ESTABLISHED?

The Learning Centers were established to further individualize the instructional program with the intention of better reaching our district's educational philosophy "to guide the student toward his maximum development based on his needs and interests in a democratic society." In addition to working on specific skills, the student has an opportunity to participate in setting his own goals, develop new interests, and, ultimately, establish desirable learning patterns.

WHO OPERATES THE LEARNING CENTERS AND WHAT ARE THE RESPONSIBILITIES?

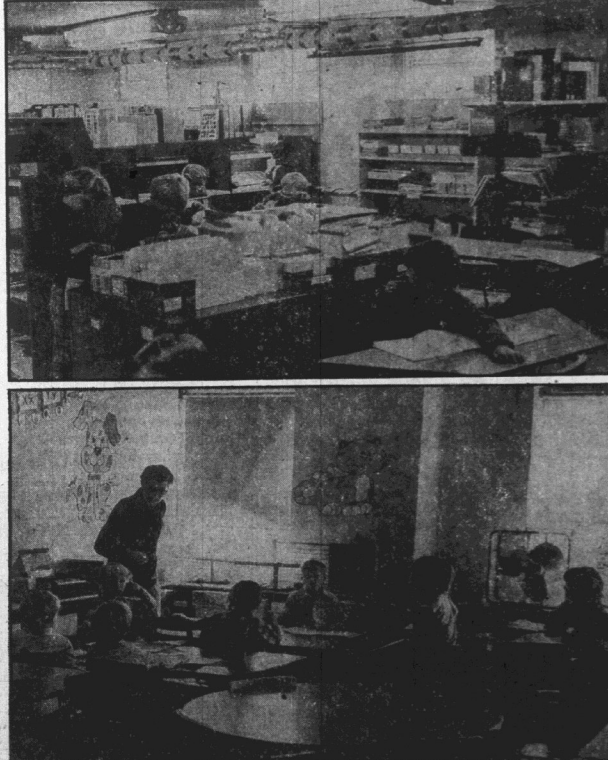

Learning Centers are staffed by a certified person who works closely with the classroom teachers to implement the individualized instructional activities that are prescribed, as well as to develop and promote new projects. This person is, in most cases, also the librarian, a member of the team serving gifted students, active on the Student Support Team, works in cooperation with the Resource Teacher, responsible for the audio-visual equipment, and participates in the acquisition of new materials.

WHAT SUBJECTS ARE TAUGHT?

Our district has placed priority upon enabling students to become proficient in the basic skills; therefore, the principal emphasis is on Language Arts and Math. However, you may see children engaged in a wide range of activities such as choosing materials, doing research, checking his own work, using various audio-visual equipment, taking placement or evaluative tests, keeping his own records, working in small groups, or developing a new project. Because of this approach, it is hoped that our students will develop an independence and self-direction while increasing their skills and ability to find creative solutions.

HOW ARE LEARNING CENTERS EQUIPPED?

The materials are quite varied and include: programmed labs, manipulative devices, educational games and puzzles, books, filmstrips, cassettes, records, and transparencies. The programs are designed to permit the student to progress on his own level, at his own rate, independently. As a result, he should experience a feeling of success, purpose, and joy of learning.

Pictured are students in various learning centers. Most centers are converted classrooms that have additional furniture, such as book shelves, study carrels, tables and audio-visual equipment. Record keeping is a major task of learning center teachers as each student has an individual folder.

Major Jackson honored

Air Force Major Edward L. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Jackson of Iowa Street in Granite City, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal during special ceremonies at the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

Col. Charles V. Gibson, director of instruction and senior Air Force representative at the Staff College, conducted the ceremony honoring Maj. Jackson.

The former Granite City resident received the award for outstanding service as commander of the 20th Field Maintenance Squadron and as logistics plant officer of the 20th Tactical Fighter Wing at the Upper Heyford Royal Air Force Station in England.

Maj. Jackson, who received a bachelor degree in political science from Central Methodist College in Missouri, holds a master degree in international relations from the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville.

A 1957 graduate of Granite City High School, Jackson is currently a student in Class 60 at the Staff College.

Five named on felony charges

Five Quad-Cities have been named in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office alleging felonies, including Michael D. Krauskopf, 22, of 2820 Dale Ave., who is charged with two counts of reckless homicide in the Dec. 22 deaths of a Madison County deputy sheriff's wife and a small son in a traffic accident.

Krauskopf acted in a reckless manner in operating his car on Route 162 near Lake Drive when his auto struck the car of Deputy John J. "Jack" Fields, Glen Carbon, Fields' wife, Catherine A. Fields, 29, and his son, John C. Fields Jr., 3, were injured fatally in the crash.

Fields and a daughter, Colleen, 7, were injured in the crash and were hospitalized. They are recuperating from their injuries.

Krauskopf and the driver of a third car in the accident, John Thompson, Hamel, suffered only minor injuries. In the information named Krauskopf, it is alleged he was driving "at a speed and in such a manner other than that which was reasonable and proper with regard to the existing traffic and roadway conditions and the safety of persons properly upon the roadway and caused his vehicle to collide with a vehicle operated by Catherine A. Fields, thereby causing the death of Catherine A. Fields.

The second count of reckless homicide alleges the same conduct in regards to the death of John C. Fields Jr.

A third count in the information charges Krauskopf with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs.

His bond was set at $10,000. Richard C. Ripley, 20, of 2008 St. Clair Ave., was named in an informational document alleging attempted murder and attempted armed robbery Dec. 1 against the Rev. Dennis Rutledge, pastor of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

The attempted murder charge alleges he "did perform a substantial step toward the commission of that offense in that he pointed a gun at Dennis Rutledge and pulled the trigger and shot a gun at Dennis Rutledge, knowing such acts would kill or do great bodily harm to Dennis Rutledge."

The attempted armed robbery charge alleges, "he attempted to take property from the person of Dennis Rutledge by threatening the imminent use of force while armed with a dangerous weapon, a gun."

Rev. Rutledge said he was walking his small daughter at Jill and Carlson avenues at 9:20 p.m. Dec. 1 when a young man approached him, displayed a revolver and told him to hand over his wallet.

When Rev. Rutledge refused, the youth pulled the trigger of the gun, but it failed to fire. The youth then pointed the gun down and pulled the trigger again and the weapon fired, a bullet striking Rev. Rutledge's right leg.

His bond was set at $75,000 and he was released on a $25,000 cash bail.

Another informational document alleges two counts of aggravated battery by Danny R. Towery, 35, of 2929 Pershing Blvd., on Nov. 27.

It is alleged Towery entered a children's birthday party at the Holiday Inn near Collinsville Nov. 27, displayed a gun and shot Don Madalino, Collinsville, and Mrs. Carol Towery, Trenton. None of the children in the room was injured. Both shooting victims were released after hospital treatment in Belleville.

Towery's bond was set at $75,000 on each count and he was released on a $15,000 cash bail.

Scott E. Briggs, 18, of 1924 Johnson Road, was named in an informational document alleging two counts of burglary.

The document alleges he entered the automobiles of Steve Wright and Gary Wright, both parked at 2408 Angela Drive, Oct. 1.

The Wright brothers alleged they saw some youths around their autos early the morning of Oct. 14 and went outside with a shotgun to investigate.

They held one youth and two juveniles, a boy and a girl, at gunpoint until Madison County sheriff's deputies arrived and took them into custody. Items taken from the autos allegedly were found in and near the trunk of a nearby auto the youths allegedly used.

Briggs' bond was set at $5,000 and he was released on his own recognizance.

Another informational document charges burglary against Ronald L. Usery, 20, of 2018 Meridian Ave. It alleges that he entered the Word of Life

Tabernacle Church, 1200 Meridian Ave. Dec. 5 with the intent to commit a theft. A window in a side door was broken to gain entry and two amplifiers, a guitar box and a speaker were missing after the burglary.

Four juvenile boys also face possible juvenile court action in connection with the church break-in and burglary.

Usery's bond was set at $10,000 and he was released on his own recognizance.

Balloons carry yuletide messages to far points

Christmas messages sent aloft on balloons by members of Niederrheins United Methodist Church Dec. 12 have been received as far away as West Virginia and Kentucky, church members have been notified.

On the Third Sunday of Advent (Dec. 12), members of the church released 150 balloons each containing a Christmas greeting in the name of one of the Sunday School members on a post card.

The message on each post card explained when and where the balloons were launched and noted, "In this way our Sunday School wishes to send a message of glad tidings to you. We send this greeting just prior to Christmas in the hope that you will be reminded of Christmas as a day that celebrates the birth of Jesus Christ."

Each post card requested the person receiving it to fill in his name and address, explain where he found the balloon, and mail it back to the church.

Four post cards have been returned to the church thus far. One, in the name of church member David Marcho, was returned by Deloris Smith, St. Albans, W. Va., and another, in the name of Scott Carpenter, was found Dec. 16 by Gary and Ricky Perry, Covington, Ky.

Allen Armour, 10, Owensboro, Ky., reported he found the balloon launched by David F. Maxwell Armour said he found the balloon on a farm at Panther, Ky., about 13 miles west of his home. It was just descending when he found it, he said. The balloon launched by Delton Groothuis was returned with a letter from Charles Cravens of Mount Vernon, Ill., a forest ranger.

His letter noted, "While on routine patrol of the Rend Lake area near Benton, I discovered a yellow balloon floating close to the ground near the North Sandusky Campground."

"Upon picking it up, I discovered the enclosed card. We, at Rend Lake, would like to take this opportunity to wish each and every one of you a very merry Christmas and may God bless you," Cravens said in his letter.

27 die in area mishaps in '76

Twenty-seven persons died in traffic accidents in the Quad-City area during 1976 as the result of four traffic deaths in December, statistics compiled by the Press-Record showed today.

The traffic fatality listings showed the 1976 toll was three less, or 10 per cent, below the total of 30 fatalities in 1975. While the number of 1976 traffic deaths was below that of the previous year, the number of accidents which resulted in injuries and the number of persons injured increased substantially.

Statistics show a total of 776 injury accidents occurred in the Quad-Cities during the 12 months of the year, causing injury of 1,111 persons. The total of 601 injury accidents in 1975 caused injury of 908 persons. Consequently the number of injury accidents during 1976 rose 28.9 per cent over those of 1975, while the number of persons injured was an increase of 22 per cent over last year. Completed traffic statistics for December showed a total of four fatalities, 62 injury accidents with 97 persons injured. This was three more fatalities than recorded in December 1975 when there was a total of 71 injury accidents and 92 persons injured.

The number of traffic accidents causing injury, the number of persons injured and the number of fatalities during the 1976 year, in that order, was as follows:

January, 54-63-0; February, 53-73-0; March, 63-104-0; April, 65-100-6; May, 75-105-1; June, 60-102-2; July, 79-125-5; August, 74-98-2; September, 74-98-2; October, 52-71-2; November, 60-76-3; and December, 62-97-4.

Don Shaffner, District 9 Off-Campus Education coordinator, said a number of topics is scheduled for discussion and action. He asked those council members unable to attend to contact his office at 877-1512, or 451-2666, station 48 or 86.

Subjects to be brought to the council's attention, include Coordinated Youth Services in relation to Off-Campus Education; presentation of completed guidelines for policies and procedures; and initial preparations for the program's annual appreciation banquet honoring participating students and Off-Campus employees.

Robert Jones, owner-operator of Baskin-Robbins 31 Ice Cream store, is the council's current president.

Music audition dates

Entrance auditions for students wishing to enroll in the music program at SIUE will be held Saturday, March 12, and Saturday, April 16.

Robert Schieber, chairman of the music scholarship and audition committee, said applications for appointments are now being accepted. The auditions will include both vocalists and instrumentalists. Music scholarships will be available to students who are qualified, Schieber said. Criteria for scholarship selection is based on ability, not need.

There are also scholarships based on need, available through the SIUE Student Work and Financial Assistance Office.

Entrance into the SIUE music program is only possible through audition. To make an appointment for an audition, students are to contact the department of music.

Tax exemption forms due during January

Applications by elderly persons for homestead exemptions which provide $1,500 reductions in assessments on property owned and occupied by persons 65 and over are being received this month by township assessors of the Quad-City area.

The exemptions became effective four years ago, but applications must be renewed during January of each year. Deadline for filing the exemption forms is Jan. 31.

The office of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse said that all property owners eligible to receive the $1,500 assessment cut must be 65 years of age or before Jan. 1. Newly qualified applicants who are filing for the first time must provide with their application forms a copy of the deed for the property which they occupy.

Granite City Township applicants may obtain the forms and fill out applications at the assessor's office at 1316 Niederrheingasse Ave. during regular office hours.

Venice Township applicants for the exemption may apply at the office of Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger, township assessor, at 422 Madison Ave. Nameoki Township Assessor Carl Macios and Chouteau Township Assessor Roy Reeves of South Roxana reported they handle most of their exemption applications by sending renewal forms to all those registered during previous years to be returned by mail. New applicants, however, must obtain the forms and present a copy of their deeds to the respective offices.

Asks doctor—can ulcer be cured permanently?

By WILLIAM J. GOLDWAG, M.D.

Q. My ulcer acts up about twice a year. I have to go on a strict diet then and drink lots of milk and take one of the many "chalk" pills there are. I've had them all. I keep meaning to stay on a strict diet when I'm better but I guess I just don't have the willpower. Is there any chance that I'll get rid of it for good?

A. Peptic ulcers are like the scratches on the arms of a rose gardener. They heal up fine but they are pretty darn sure to be back again.

Most stomach and duodenal ulcers heal up rapidly—in fact sometimes they come and go with such amazing rapidity that they never get diagnosed and are barely noted by their victims. Something in the nature of the individual makes you prone to develop them repeatedly.

While stomach acid is a major factor in ulcers, it is not the cause since all normal people have plenty of stomach acid but are protected against its action on the stomach wall itself.

However, it is true that when symptoms are active, neutralizing the stomach contents with antacids is the most consistent and effective way to get relief of pain. Milk may or may not help, depending on individual tolerances. Some people cannot digest milk adequately and experience cramps, gas or distention, symptoms which can be confused with ulcer symptoms in some cases.

The general feeling among most authorities now is that ulcer patients can eat pretty much whatever feels good to them between attacks and even during episodes of symptoms, although very highly spiced foods are best avoided. Frequent doses of antacid in liquid form are probably better than milk for relieving pain. Other kinds of pills to reduce acid secretions are of probably little value except that some have sedative or tranquilizing in them which may reduce tension states temporarily and so help ease symptoms.

Whether one sees evidence of ulcer on X-ray or not is of minor importance except to rule out other more serious conditions. Absence of the ulcer on X-ray doesn't prove it isn't hidden in a fold of intestine or that it isn't already healing or perhaps not yet deep enough to be seen. The treatment is the same if the signs and symptoms are typical.

Q. I have heard that polio cases occur in spite of almost every child getting polio vaccine in infancy. Is this true and if so, how can it happen if almost everyone gets the vaccine?

A. It is true that cases still occur and it is interesting to note that in recent years, the live vaccine has been practically the sole cause of the infection. In other words, it isn't spreading from naturally occurring viruses in the community. About half the cases received the vaccine shortly before, while the other half contracted it after exposure to someone who had just gotten the live vaccine.

The original Salk vaccine (given by injection) is a killed virus vaccine and has had no paralytic polio associated with its use while the Sabin vaccine which replaced it (thought to be more effective in conferring immunity) is given orally and is a live (though weakened) virus. The Sabin vaccine can be transmitted to a close contact from the recipient unknowingly. This was originally thought to be an advantage—immunizing people by contact instead of directly. However, now it is realized that some people may actually contract paralytic polio by contacting an immunized person. True, the risk is very small but to someone who gets it, it's very big. Some authorities have even suggested a return to the Salk vaccine which doesn't spread to others (it's killed vaccine) to prevent the few cases that do occur. Some Scandinavian countries using the killed vaccine have had no polio cases since widespread immunization was accomplished.

The problem is complex but suggests that every new and promising discovery in the field of prevention of infectious disease, carries with it many unknowns and demonstrates that we cannot immediately dispose of all our tried and known methods just because something new comes along. Dr. Salk is still in there fighting for the resumption of production and use of his killed vaccine.

Chart of 1,625 GC crashes in '76 used to bolster traffic controls, reduce hazards

"It's been here since before I became chief of police and we use it every day," Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer says of a large map which hangs on the wall of the service division office in the police station, with hundreds of pins showing where traffic accidents occurred in the city during 1976.

For about 10 years, city workers have devoted about five minutes each morning to plotting the location of each accident in the city in the previous 24 hours.

"The police, city's traffic engineer, other engineers and the aldermen use it—everyone who wants to know where accidents are occurring," Veizer said of the map, which had pins representing 1,625 accidents at the end of 1976.

"That does not even include all the collisions which occurred on parking lots or on private property. The city does not keep a tally of those accidents."

"It is especially helpful to the police. They can easily see where the problem areas are and can strengthen traffic law enforcement there in an attempt to reduce the number of accidents."

"It is the most convenient single place to evaluate the accidents that are occurring and to decide where better control signals, signs and enforcement are needed," the chief commented.

The map today is nearly bare, since all of the 1976 accidents have been cleared off to make room for the 1977 vehicle

ANTI-ACCIDENT CHART kept in the Granite City Police Department pinpoints the locations of all traffic crashes which occurred on city streets during 1976. Major streets are highlighted by numerous pins, each representing one accident and some designating three, five or 10 accidents, according to dots or stripes on the empty. For each single accident which occurred during 1976, the map contained a pin with a red top. Red pins with a white dot represented three accidents; red pins with stripes indicated pins. Madison Avenue runs through the center of the map, with Nameoki Road angling up toward the top at the right. The map is maintained daily to give police and other city officials information on where additional traffic controls might reduce accidents. (Press-Record Photo) five accidents, and red pins with white crosses represented 10 accidents each at a location during the year.

Black pins represented accidents involving pedestrians and black pins with black flags indicated accidents resulting in death.

The final 1976 tallies when the pins were removed included 428 which resulted in injuries to one or more persons in the particular accident.

December saw more injury accidents than any other month, as 47 Granite City crashes resulted in injuries to 93 persons.

December was followed by August and October, tied in the numbers of injury accidents with 45 each.

March had 40, June 38, April 37, May and September 35 each, July 31, February 30, January 23 and November 20.

Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue were among the rivals for the largest number of accidents, and that busy intersection accounted for many.

A department statistician said that, including the Nameoki Road intersection, Madison Avenue throughout its length had 265 crashes in 1976. There were 45 crashes at the Johnson Road-Nameoki Road intersection, 37 at the Pontoon Road-Nameoki Road corner, 24 at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue and 24 at the Madison Avenue intersection with 20th Street.

Washington Avenue, in the section from 20th Street to 26th Street, had 63 auto mishaps in 1976.

Two Granite City accidents resulted in one death each. Neither fatality occurred at an intersection or street shown by the map to have an unusually high number of collisions, the statistician said.

Ice skating pupils to earn badges Saturday

The Granite City Park District's ice skating classes, usually held at 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. each Saturday, will combine into one group for a testing session at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 8, at the Wilson Park rink.

The tests enable the youthful skaters to receive badges for different degrees of proficiency in the pre-Alpha, Alpha, Beta, Gamma and freestyle levels and for beginning skaters.

Harold Brown, park district superintendent, said the final skate school program to be sponsored at the Granite City rink will commence Saturday, Jan. 15.

Those wishing to enroll for the 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. sessions are to register in person at the rink manager's office.

With exception of Saturday, Jan. 22, the skating classes will take place each Saturday at the same hours through March 5. Brown said on Jan. 22, the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association will host several Canadian hockey teams. The Canadian skaters will compete against local hockey squads in a series of games.

John Avedisian, 3129 Ash Ave., was westbound on Leonard Avenue with a friend and a car owned by Granite City Patrolman Sam Avedisian, when the window of the left rear door was shattered by a projectile.

He said the shot came from the alley between the 2900 blocks of Marshall and Warren avenues. Police checked with neighbors in the area who named a boy living nearby who had been seen carrying a bb or pellet gun.

They questioned the boy at his home, and took him and his mother to the police station after the boy admitted shooting out the window of Avedisian's auto, and of the Dec. 31 shooting of a window in the personal car of Sgt. Richard Woods at the same location.

A bb gun and a pellet rifle were seized at the boy's home. Further questioning led to a statement from the boy that he had shot at least 10 other cars, but always tried to hit the car bodies and not to break the windows.

The boy and his mother were released, pending further discussions with juvenile authorities.

He said the shot came from the alley between the 2900 blocks of Marshall and Warren avenues. Police checked with neighbors in the area who named a boy living nearby who had been seen carrying a bb or pellet gun.

They questioned the boy at his home, and took him and his mother to the police station after the boy admitted shooting out the window of Avedisian's auto, and of the Dec. 31 shooting of a window in the personal car of Sgt. Richard Woods at the same location.

A bb gun and a pellet rifle were seized at the boy's home. Further questioning led to a statement from the boy that he had shot at least 10 other cars, but always tried to hit the car bodies and not to break the windows.

The boy and his mother were released, pending further discussions with juvenile authorities.

John Avedisian, 3129 Ash Ave., was westbound on Leonard Avenue with a friend and a car owned by Granite City Patrolman Sam Avedisian, when the window of the left rear door was shattered by a projectile.

Higher veterans' college benefits

Veterans now have an increased opportunity to attend college. Those eligible for the G.I. Bill have an increase in benefits of eight per cent, with a longer time in which the G.I. Bill can be used, and additional money for tutorial assistance.

As a result of the eight per cent increase, veterans attending college full-time now receive the following monthly allowances: single, $292; with one dependent, $347; with two dependents, $396; with three dependents, $420; and $24 for each additional dependent.

For the veteran who originally received an award of 36 months of educational benefits, the new law extends that award to 48 months.

The ten-year period during which G.I. Bill benefits may be used has not been changed.

Veterans may now receive up to $65 per month for payment of a tutor to assist them in difficult courses.

Veterans who were Illinois residents before and after their military service also are eligible to receive the Illinois Military Scholarship. This scholarship pays tuition and certain other fees for those who are eligible.

Currently, there are over 1,000 veterans "earning while they are learning" in one of the Belleville Area College's preparatory, vocational or transfer programs.

Veterans with questions or problems concerning their educational benefits may contact the BAC Veterans' Service office at 235-2700.

Intensify Air Force ROTC recruitment

The Air Force ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corps) program at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has launched a major recruitment effort to attract qualified students who have had some training in engineering, chemistry, mathematics, physics and computer technology.

William F. Morey, Lt. Col. William F. Morey, head of the SIUC Air Force ROTC detachment, said plans for the 1977-78 academic year call for filling at least 15 of the 24 quota slots that will be open then with "highly qualified students who have heavy technical backgrounds."

Morey said the students would be in a position to demand jobs as civil and development engineers, logistics managers, pilots, navigators and missile technicians and earn a minimum starting salary of about $11,000 a year when they go on active duty in the Air Force.

The detachment especially wants students who have two years left in college (undergraduates or graduates) to fill technical slots.

The recruitment program will last through March and will be aimed at three audiences: students already enrolled at SIUC, transfer students from Illinois junior and senior colleges and universities, and high school seniors and other students who plan to enroll at SIUC for the first time next fall.

Detachment personnel will be visiting junior colleges, high schools and campus groups to get its message across, Morey said.

Students who enroll in the program while they have two years left in college are eligible to receive Air Force stipends amounting to $100 a month, and full-tuition scholarships awarded by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and SIUC.

With about 100 students enrolled at the beginning of the fall semester, Morey said the APROTC program is on "solid ground" and well in line with others throughout the country.

There were 75 students in the program in 1974, and Morey predicts there will be 120 next fall.

Fourteen students will complete the advanced program and be commissioned this academic year, and about 20 more will win commissions next year.

Community Choral Society will begin working on opera choruses which will be performed with the Opera Practicum. Directed by Rico Serbo, the Practicum will be held Monday, March 7.

Among the opera choruses the Society will be singing are "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust by Gounod, "The Auld Chorus" from Il Trovatore by Giuseppe Verdi, and "The Shepherd's Chorus" from Amahl and the Night Visitors" by Gian Carlo Menotti.

The group also will be rehearsing Verdi's "Requiem," which will be performed May 26 and 27.

Community Choral Society at SIUE is inviting area residents who like to sing to join the group.

Leonard Van Camp, professor of music at the university, is the director.

Opening the second portion of its season this week, the Choral Society held its first rehearsal Tuesday in Room 1402 of the Peck Classroom Building.

According to Van Camp, there are no auditions, and membership is open to anyone who likes to sing.

The four-voice chorus group usually attracts more than 100 members each year, ranging from those who have had musical training to those who have had none. Amateurs are welcome, Van Camp emphasized. There is a nominal fee for membership, and participants are expected to buy their own music.

Increase in scholarships

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Foundation has received several new scholarship funds, according to Charles Schweizer, director of the foundation.

The Marilyn Troeckler Young Career Woman Award Fund has been established with the Foundation in memory of Mrs. Troeckler, who died in November. At the time of her death, she was employed by the university as an administrative secretary in the Office of the President.

The award fund was established by the Edwardsville Business and Professional Women's Club. Purpose will be "to recognize the great contributions that Marilyn Troeckler made to help young career women and to encourage other young women to work toward expanded career goals," Schweizer said.

A $100 scholarship will be awarded to a young woman who meets criteria determined by the National Business and Professional Women. The recipient will be selected by a panel of members from the Edwardsville club. Funds from the scholarship will be used to pay the recipient's fees at SIUE.

The James, David and Drew Wilson Loan Fund has been established with the SIUE Foundation as a memorial to James and David Wilson and as an honor to Drew Wilson.

Sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Vance V. Wilson, Belleville, parents of the boys. Loans from the fund will be made to fulfill the needs of students who are graduates of high schools in Belleville.

An increase of $305 has been made in the Eulalia Hotz-Knox Mass Communications Loan Fund, Schweizer said. The donor is News Election Service of New York City.

College training under the current GI Bill has attracted more veterans than the combined total enrolled in college courses under the World War II and Korean bills, the Veterans Administration has reported.

More than 3.5 million veterans have received college training under the current bill.

The World War II bill provided college training for 2.2 million veterans. There were 1.2 million enrolled in college courses under the Korean War legislation.

Vietnam-era veterans have been the greatest participants in GI Bill training. Of 8.3 million persons who served during the Vietnam era, 64.1 per cent have enrolled in some form of training, 37 per cent in college courses.

Only 14.4 per cent of the World War II veterans chose college courses and 22 per cent of the Korean veterans.

Enrollments in GI Bill training during November totaled 1.2 million, including $7,000 in college courses.

Regional VA offices reported increasing interest in the additional nine months educational entitlement signed into law during October for eligible GI Bill students.

This law extended entitlement to 45 months for all persons who have served at least 18 months of continuous active duty and have not been separated for more than 10 years.

The law also terminated eligibility for GI Bill training for those entering active duty after Dec. 31, 1976, except for those committed to the delayed entry program.

Persons on active duty will continue to be eligible for 10 years after separation from the service or until Dec. 31, 1989, whichever is earlier.

Suffering holiday weight hangover?

By SHIRLEY BRIGHT
BOODY

Registered Dietitian
The holidays are past, leaving many with expanded waistlines.

Many accept the gain as a part of the holiday package. Others suffer remorse and guilt for months afterward. Then there are those who approach the feasting with a plan and usually escape without a change in their figure.

People with a weight problem to begin with are the major sufferers of the January weight hangovers. The bald truth is that the heavier you are as you went into the festivities, the heavier you are when you emerge. The closer you were to normal weight the less problem you suffer from holiday feasting.

Those who maintain a sensible eating program and a proper weight during the year are very likely unaffected by party eating.

Maintaining a slender body requires eating the kinds and quantities of foods that insure health. If you eat properly most of the time an occasional "indiscretion" will not do much damage.

There are those who approach the parties much as an alcoholic approaches a binge — the only thing that counts is quantity. They measure the fun they had by how much they consumed.

Amelities, friends and sociability are forgotten in the attempt to eat as much as possible.

Social grace should dictate your behavior. When you are invited to a dinner or party it is an honored guest, not as a garbage disposer.

It may not be easy to control your eating habits, but the results are well worth any effort it takes. Practice eating smaller quantities. Pay attention to each amount of food you eat. As a rule of thumb, normal servings of fruits and vegetables should be one-half cup. Meats, fish and fowl should be limited to eight ounces, or six ounces if you are overweight. Salads should be about one cup in quantity.

Never excuse large quantities of an item because it is low in calories. Learn to control quantities of everything. Test yourself on how long it takes you to eat a meal. If you rush and gulp food you will inevitably eat more and in your hurry often air is swallowed resulting in "gas," pains and bloating. Force yourself to slow down to a normal rate allowing 20 minutes for each meal. Fast eating is a social lapse.

Avoid serving large bowls and platters of food to your family. It is far better to place normal servings on each plate and serve from the kitchen with no seconds offered.

Don't leave dishes of nuts, fruits or candies on display in your home. These are unnecessary temptations. Place them in evidence only when guests arrive.

Dear Shirley:
Are carrots really good for the eyes? Do they discolor the skin?

Miss B. J.

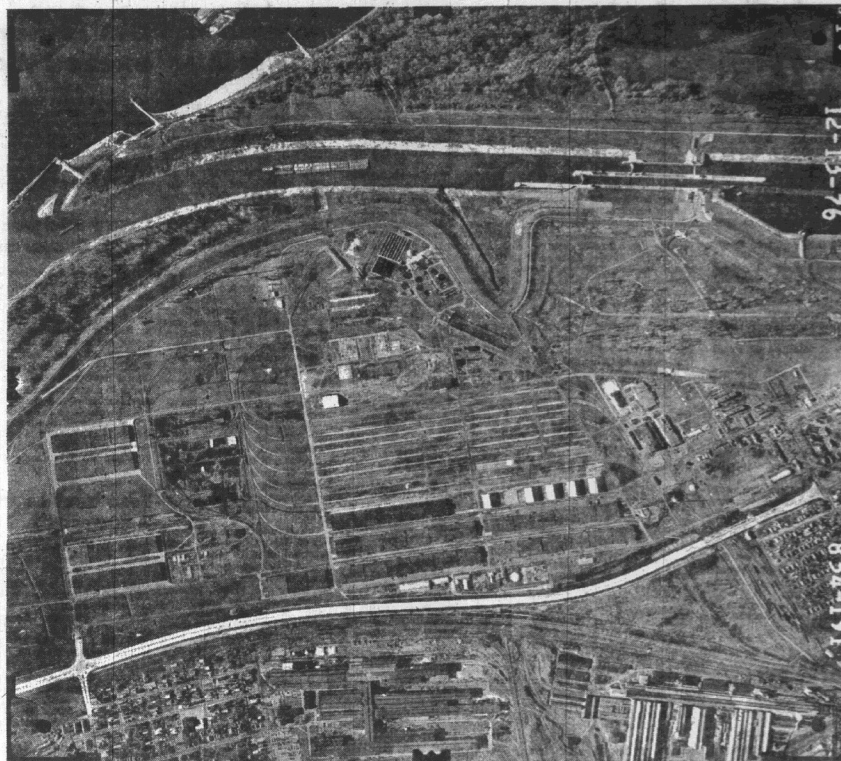

Dear Miss B. J.:
They are high in Vitamin A, but there is no magic in any one food. Excessive intake of carrots or carrot juice can cause a yellowish appearance to the skin.

Dear Shirley:
Should I take calcium pills for leg cramps?

Mrs. H. L.

Dear Mrs. H. L.:
No, you could develop kidney stones from excessive calcium. Consult your doctor and let him recommend treatment.

Weather takes toll among trees, shrubs

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Sub-zero weather is not a disaster to trees and shrubs but some injury and winterkill often occurs.

gradually causes deep freezing when snow or heavy mulch doesn't protect the bare soil. Most trees and shrubs are well adapted for severe weather but some evergreens and shrubs are finally killed.

Boxwood, pyracantha and some varieties of holly require extra protection to avoid winter dieback or complete loss.

Winter mulching is still beneficial if you have sensitive plants or newly transplanted trees and shrubs. Piling snow around the plants will provide extra insulation until the first thaw. Leaves and straw are favorites to insulate the soil and protect the lower trunk and crown. During mid-winter thaws, the layer of mulch insulates the soil to delay thawing until cool weather resumes.

Lack of sufficient light is one of the difficulties house plants must survive in late winter. Even shade-loving plants, such as African violets, begonias and ferns, appreciate exposure to bright light — but not direct sunlight — at this time of year.

Insufficient light, until about March 1 — coupled with high temperature and dry conditions in the home — encourage long, leggy, weak growth. Plants in east, north or west windows survive limited amounts of direct sunshine during the winter months. But after March 1, extended periods of sunshine may cause problems. Sheer curtains over very sunny windows cut down direct sunlight sufficiently. However, be sure to water plants thoroughly if they are exposed to bright light conditions.

Buy-back is ordered

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott's Consumer Protection Division on Tuesday obtained a court-approved settlement with a Peoria car dealer, in which the dealer will buy a car back from a complaining consumer.

In the settlement, the dealer, Don Stone, agreed to pay the consumer, Louis Landon, of Peoria, $4,487.40 for a 1974 Capri automobile purchased from Stone.

Landon had complained to the attorney general's office that he thought he was buying a new car, but found later that it had been used and substantially damaged in a collision.

The settlement, filed in Peoria County Circuit Court before Judge Robert E. Hunt, resolves a lawsuit filed in April 1976 by the Consumer Protection Division.

In consenting to the settlement order, the dealer also agreed to pay $780.90 in court costs.

Clean air board to meet Monday

Application for a new federal grant to supplement funds for the enforcement section of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board will be among matters to be discussed at a meeting of the board Monday at 7:30 p.m. The board will meet in city offices at 2301 Adams St. Other items on the agenda will include a review of expenditures, invoices by the technical secretary, a 1976 financial report, monthly activity summary reports for November and December, and an ambient air sampling report.

THEFT ON WILLOW

Two revolvers, a shotgun, a $10 bill and three small banks containing coins and bills were taken from the home of Joe Zimmermann, 2808 Willow Ave., between Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Monday. There were no signs of forced entry.

Slow economic progress is expected during 1977

By RICHARD L. LESHER

President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Forecasting, reflection and resolutions traditionally occupy a columnist at the start of a new year, so I'll dive into the tea leaves and try to divine what's ahead for business.

The economy is growing slowly as the new year begins. That's a dramatic contrast to early 1976, when real Gross National Product rose by 9.2 percent in the first quarter.

Two factors caused that spurt in early 1976: Enthusiastic spending by consumers and inventory rebuilding by business.

But growth has tapered off sharply since then. We will have to grow faster to meet the new Administration's twin goals of lowering both the unemployment and inflation rates.

The key elements in a recovery are business investment, residential construction and consumer spending.

Since investment and multi-unit residential construction have been slow to revive, it's up to the consumer.

But retail sales have been lagging, so many forecasters are assuming there will be a $15 billion personal income tax cut early in the second quarter of this year to stimulate consumer spending.

They are also assuming that the Federal Reserve will accommodate a tax cut by increasing the money supply.

If the cut lasts only 12 months, the major impact would be finished by the first half of 1978 and the unemployment rate would then be stuck in the 6.5 percent to 7 percent range.

So 1978 could pose the same kind of economic policy question that faces the incoming Administration today — is government stimulus for the economy required and, if so, what kind and how much will be needed to nudge the economy out of its current "pause"?

The consensus forecast for this year is for slow but steady economic progress, since it assumes moderate fiscal stimulus and moderately easy Federal Reserve monetary policy.

Improvement will appear in both inflation and unemployment, but the improvement will be less than hoped for by the Carter Administration.

Extension course to aid operators in food services

Effective July 1, 1978, each foodservice establishment then or thereafter in operation in Illinois must be under the operational supervision of a resident managerial person who has been certified by the State of Illinois Department of Public Health.

In view of this, the Madison Extension Center of Belleville Area College will offer foodservice sanitation classes to assist operators and employees to complete certification examinations. Further information regarding the beginning date of classes, costs, and other factors may be obtained from Extension Center Coordinator Charles Slepote at 878-7010.

The class will consist of eight three-hour sessions with the certification examination being administered by a representative of the Department of Public Health as a ninth session.

Quad-Cityans who have questions about the law requiring the certification may contact the Department of Public Health at 618-286-5761.

The inflation rate should decline from last year's 5.7 percent to about 5 percent, and the unemployment rate should fall from 7.7 percent to a yearly average of about 7.4 percent.

GNP corrected for inflation should go up by 5 percent. Although this increase is below the 1976 average growth of 6 percent, it is substantially above the rate in recent quarters.

The fiscal stimulus assumed in the typical and one argument was granted in Madison County Circuit Court. Granted divorcee: Cole of Roxana from Robert Clyde Cole of Granite City. They were married March 20, 1971, and separated May 30, 1976. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of two children was granted to the mother.

Virginia R. Lawrence of Madison from Charles Edward Lawrence of St. Louis. They were married Sept. 15, 1955, and separated in May 1973. Desertion was charged.

Waldo Clarence Dalton, both of Granite City. They were married Dec. 9, 1944, and separated in August 1966. Desertion was charged.

Terry Glenn Long from Cynthia Long, both of Granite City. They were married June 19, 1970, and separated in September 1974. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of three children was granted to the mother.

Earl Hinkle from Paula Sue (Connors) Hinkle, both of Granite City. They were married May 5, 1976, and separated in October 1976. Mental cruelty was charged. Her former name was restored.

MISS HARTBARGER ON VALDOSTA DEAN'S LIST

Marilyn D. Hartbarger of Granite City is one of 590 students named to the dean's list at Valdosta (Ga.) State College for the fall quarter. Dr. W. Ray Cleere, vice president and dean of faculties, has announced.

Freshmen and sophomores are required to have a 3.3 grade point average out of a possible 4.0, and upperclassmen must attain a 3.3 average in order to be named to the academic honor list. To be on the list, a student must carry at least 15 quarter hours of course work.

These uncertainties have been heightened by talk of increased government intervention in the economy. More business investment is needed, not only to stimulate the economy in the near term but also to provide the tools for workers — tools badly needed for longer-term economic growth and higher employment in the future.

The natural stimulus of more business investment would then substitute for the artificial stimulus of federal deficit spending.

That's our forecast for the economy: A year of slow recovery. We add our hopes and prayers that 1977 will bring health, happiness and success for all.

Faces five charges

Steve Niesporek, 23, of 2608 Iowa St., was charged with battery, resisting arrest and three counts of disorderly conduct after he allegedly caused a disturbance and wrestled with police officers in the lobby of the Granite City Police Department at 12:40 a.m. Tuesday. One officer was injured in the disturbance.

Police alleged Niesporek first entered the police station lobby and attempted to start a fight with a police dispatcher.

He left when ordered to leave, but returned a few minutes later and challenged two dispatchers to fight, it was alleged.

Lt. Harry Mitchell then entered the lobby and ordered Niesporek to leave, he reported. He alleged Niesporek started to leave, but stopped at the stairway and yelled an obscenity at Lt. Mitchell.

Mitchell said he then informed Niesporek he was under arrest and grabbed him, but alleged Niesporek then attacked him, put a "bear hug" on him and wrestled him through a door and onto the floor of the nearby public restroom. Two other officers came to Lt. Mitchell's assistance and force had to be used to arrest Niesporek, it was alleged.

Lt. Mitchell went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted for surgery with a cut to his right index finger, including damage to a tendon.

GCHS student's article in magazine tells of building Venice bridge

The January issue of the Illinois History magazine — a publication for teen-agers sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society — includes an article written by William D. Metcalf, a student at Granite City High School South.

The issue is titled "Historic Illinois Bridges." Metcalf's article is titled "Interurban Crossing" and describes the building of McKinley Bridge at Venice by the Illinois Traction Company, which no longer exists.

Metcalf's article follows: In 1904 the directors of the Illinois Traction Company, an electric interurban railway that serviced Springfield, Peoria, Champaign, and several other Illinois cities, decided to increase business by extending their services to St. Louis, Missouri. Because all existing bridges crossing the Mississippi River were owned by rival railroads, the directors of the ITC chose to build a new bridge at Venice, Ill. Land could be easily obtained there, and the bridge was dedicated with a ceremony three days to use the bridge, and persons riding the streetcars paid five cents. Tolls on motor and horse-drawn vehicles ranged up to 35 cents.

The first streetcar crossed the McKinley Bridge on Sept. 29, 1910, although regular service did not begin for several months. On Nov. 10, 1910, the bridge was dedicated with a long and spectacular ceremony which was attended by government officials from Illinois and Missouri.

Although the ITC no longer exists, the McKinley Bridge still stands as one of the most unusual and historic bridges to cross the Mississippi River.

Search groups named to fill 3 SIUE posts

Searches have been launched at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for persons to fill three major administrative positions.

At the request of the university's incoming president, Kenneth A. Shaw, search committees have been organized under the direction of Acting President Ralph W. Ruffner to make recommendations for the positions of general counsel, vice-president for business affairs and vice-president and provost.

The committees were asked to make recommendations to Shaw by June 1, and Shaw said he hopes the appointments can be made by July 1. All three appointments must be confirmed by the Board of Trustees.

Earl Lazerson has been acting vice-president and provost since April 8. Lazerson formerly was dean of the School of Science and Technology.

James F. Metcalf, who is university budget director, has also held the title of acting vice-president for business affairs since April 8.

John Paul Davis announced his resignation as general counsel in December. John Gilbert and Gary Coffey, attorneys in private practice, are assisting with university legal matters in the interim.

Procedures for selecting the 11 members of the search committee for the position of vice-president and provost were recommended by the University Senate. The committee consists of three members represented and the members appointed are:

—Four members selected by a caucus of the faculty representatives in the University Senate: Annette Baich, professor, department of biological sciences, School of Science and Technology; Panos Kokoropoulos, associate professor, department of engineering and technology, School of Science and Technology; John Richardson, professor, department of art and design, School of Fine Arts and Communications; and Herbert Rosenthal, professor, department of historical studies, School of Social Sciences.

—One member selected by the Deans Conference: Allan J. McCarry, dean of the School of Social Sciences.

—One member selected by the Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council: Violet C. Podnar, accountant in the Office of Internal Auditing.

The procedures for selecting the 12 members of the search committee for the position of vice-president for business affairs were recommended by the SIUE administration and the University Senate. The constituency groups represented and the members appointed are:

—Two members selected by the Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council from among non-administrative employees in Business Affairs: Thomas J. Barschak, assistant purchasing agent, Procurement, Storage and Supply, and Ruth S. Eldson, administrative secretary, Office of Vice-President for Business Affairs.

—Three members selected by the Faculty Senate, to include one faculty member from the School of Business: Robert Pendergrass, professor, department of mathematical studies, School of Science and Technology; Robert Schultheis, professor, department of business administration, School of Business; and Rudolph Wilson, assistant professor, department of secondary education, School of Education. Schultheis was selected by the committee as its chairman.

—Three members, one graduate student and two undergraduate students, selected by the Student Senate: David E. Freeman of Edwardsville, City graduate student; and Billy Ward of East St. Louis and Mark Wilkinson of Butler Hill.

The appointments are:

—Gary Coffey, Edwardsville, a member of the firm of Reed, Armstrong, Gordon and Coffey.

$83 million in '76 benefits under Circuit Breaker law

"While prices were generally on the rise this past year, qualified Illinois senior citizens and disabled persons felt the pinch a little less, due to benefits received under 'Circuit Breaker' grants," Kenneth W. Holland, director of the Department on Aging, said Monday.

Circuit breaker is the common name for the Illinois Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief, administered by the Department of Revenue.

The benefit provides tax relief to persons 65 or over and disabled persons 16 or over, who are Illinois residents and have an income of less than $10,000. An "additional grant" is awarded to those persons who would not qualify as property tax payers.

"Applications will be available at any one of the 13 area agencies on aging, or at any nutrition project site or senior center," noted Holland. "There are persons at each of these centers who can assist in filling out forms. It is a very easy process, and I encourage anyone who thinks he may be eligible to go ahead and apply."

Over 336,000 persons received circuit breaker benefits this past year, with 410,000 persons receiving rebates from the additional grant. With applications still coming in for the 1972, 1973, 1974, and 1975 tax years, benefits during calendar year 1976 totaled approximately $83 million, according to a Department of Revenue spokesman.

The average elderly or disabled person receiving a circuit breaker claim for 1975 received a rebate of $172.82.

Plays by Shakespeare, Ibsen and Solzhenitsyn

Works by Shakespeare, Ibsen, Forster and Solzhenitsyn will be dramatized on "Playhouse Nine" on KETC-TV, Channel 9. "The Merchant of Venice" by William Shakespeare headlines the new series at 8 tonight.

Maggie Smith and Frank Finlay star in the classic, called the most penetrating analysis in all literature of the concepts of justice.

The story ends with a courtroom scene in which Shylock demands human justice (a pound of flesh), only to be rebuffed by Portia, who wins a victory for moral justice.

Wendy Hiller, Colin Blakely, Francesca Annis and Ray Barrett star in Henrik Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 8 p.m. Ibsen's classic is dramatized against a contemporary background and is nearer in spirit to the old Scandinavian heroic sagas than to the somber realism of his social dramas.

The adventures of Peer Gynt through the vast reaches of his imagination are rooted in the reality of his Norwegian village, in his relationship with his mother and with the ever-faithful, ever-loving Solveig.

The adventures range through his encounters with strange men and beasts, in the Kingdom of the Trolls, in the Moroccan desert until the final confrontation with the Butten Moulder. The play ends with Peer's return to the arms of Solveig to find peace and happiness.

On Thursday, Jan. 20, at 8 p.m. E. M. Forster's "A Room With A View," the story of a young girl on a holiday in Italy, is dramatized. Forster's 1908

COMEDY SPECIAL ON NEW ADMINISTRATION

Political satirist Mark Russell will take a humorous look at the upcoming Democratic administration on his second comedy special to be telecast at 9:30 p.m. Friday on Channel 9.

In a departure from the series' live format, Russell is seen composing a letter to President-elect Jimmy Carter in which he sets forth, tongue-in-cheek, his credentials for a post in the Carter administration. Each "credential" is illustrated by one or more jokes or songs excerpted from the past year's program.

News-week said of Russell, "Next to the U.S. government, he is one of Washington's most durable institutions, picaresque, stand-up comic whose lines are as fresh as the afternoon's headlines, and twice as interesting."

MR. AND MRS. GERALD E. HEFFERLY who were married in the Community Reformed Church, Buena Park, Calif. Formerly Beverly S. Maples, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maples, of Cypress, Calif.

Beverly Maples becomes Mrs. Gerald Hefferly

Autumn floral arrangements adorned the altar for the candlelight double ring service performed at 7:30 p.m. by the Rev. Duane Tellinghuisen. Dale Wood sang, "The Wedding Song," "A Wedding Blessing," "Malotte" and "The Lord's Prayer, prior to the ceremony.

The bride wore a traditional white organza gown trimmed with Venice lace and pearls on the Sweetheart neckline and repeated on the wide cuffs of the sheer lantern style sleeves.

Her semi full skirt fell softly into a chapel train. She wore a lace Juliet cap to hold in place a cathedral length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath, encircled with dry oak leaves.

Sisters of the bride, Linda Adams and Rebecca Maples, served as honor attendants with bridesmaids Shari Oleson, Cheri Deangelo and Cathy Ehlers, who were dressed alike in toast Diana jersey dresses. The brides and cuffs of the long sleeves were fashioned in brown velvet. Each attendant held a colonial bouquet of mixed fall flowers with baby's breath and they were matching headpieces.

Attending the groom as best man was Les Power. Ed Muehl, Rich Davis, David Tott and Bill Bealer served as groomsmen. Ushers and candlelighters included Ron Maples Jr., a brother of the bride and Dennis Adams, the bride's brother-in-law.

Matt, 10-28 . . . "And he that taketh not his cross and followeth after Me, is not worthy of Me."

There is one thing that is certain today, and that is the true disciples of Christ follow Him daily. Christ was emphatic in his statement that we are not worthy of Him if we do not.

There is one other fact we need to consider and that is that we must voluntarily take up the cross. He will not and never has forced anyone to serve Him. Nor is He selective in disciples for "Whosoever will, let him come." I will in no wise cast him out.

He is waiting for you to follow today.
